WINEROOMS HAVE "COME BACK" AND BUSINESS IS GOOD

Women With or Without Escorts Welcome and Can Get Drinks by Asking.

EXCISE MEN DENY IT

Special Officer Harrison Has Seemingly Skipped Market Street Place.

CROWDS ARE QUIET

Strange Characters Are Seen Drinking in Resorts Throughout City.

Investigation by Post-Dispatch reporters show that winerooms are again flourishing in St. Louis. These drinking places, where men and women, and frequently women without escorts, congregate day and night, once were abated during the administration of ormer Excise Commissioner Mulvihill.

The winerooms have not brought with them a train of expert noisemakers to proclaim the fact in clarion tones. Instead, they have returned so quietly and meekly that attaches of the Excise Commissioner's office professed astonishment Tuesday when a Post-Dispatch reporter broached teh subject of a leak in the wineroom lid.

The recent "come back" of brewers into the political rings of both parties is thought to have encouraged the wineroom proprietors in their belief that they could come back also. That the confidence of certain saloon men in their rejuvenation is not without some foundation was plain to Post-Dispatch reporters who investigated a number of them Monday night.

Harrison's Emphatic Denial.

Excise Commissioner Caufield was out of the city Tuesday, but his chief deputy and other officers declared that the "rumor" of the winerooms' return was evidently erroneous. While a Post-Dispatch reporter was in his office the Deputy Excise Commissioner summoned Special Officer Harrison. Harrison, the deputy said, would know if any man in town did whether any winerooms had resumed operations.

"There's not a wineroom in St Louis," said Harrison emphatically. When asked what was understood at the Excise Commissioner's office by the term "wineroom," the deputies said that it was any room or apartment connected with a barroom where the principal article of sale was liquor and not food.

In strange contradiction to the "impression" which prevails in the Excise Commissioner's office was the scene at Henry Heet's "Deutsche Gasthaus" at Seventeenth and Market streets. There was absolutely no concealment there of the fact that the wineroom was wide open.

Sign Shows the Place.

Heet's wineroom is on Seventeenth street directly in the rear of the bar which faces Market street. A lighted sign, displaying the word "Ladies' Entrance," blazes onto Seventeenth street. The sign is directly over the door leading into the wineroom.

This door was open Monday night and the end of the long table with the old red tablecloth could be easily observed merely by looking around the corner of the door.

It was a strange, queer-looking crowd that was gathered around the long table. The crowd itself as well as the wineroom, seemed to have come back from "the good old days." Young girls without escorts entered and, taking their places at the table, ordered drinks. None was refused.

Crowd Extremely Quiet.

The crowd, however, was extremely quiet for a time and this fact seemed to bore some of the visitors, especially one woman in a crowd of four who would not yield to her companion's solicitations to "go some other place."

"Hey, mister," this woman called to the waiter, "isn't there a piano in this place?"

The waiter informed her that there was a music box just outside the door which played regularly for a nickel a play. Without another word the woman produced the nickel and the music was started.

A quiet appearing young woman sat drinking with a dark, sullen man. The woman held a 3-year-old golden-haired baby on her lap. Next to them sat a sickly-looking, flaxen-haired youth, making ardent love to a woman of 40, with a scarred face and slovenly, dirty dress.

As the hour grew later the two began to furnish the diversion for which the crowd of seasoned drinkers around the table had been waiting all evening. The crowd applauded

COL. AMES FOUND GUILTY OF DRUNKENNESS, REDUCED IN RANK

Courtmartial Deprives Officer of 12 Numbers.

MANILA, Aug. 16.—The findings in the case of Lieutenant Colonel Robert F. Ames, who was courtmarshaled following the investigation of the suicide at his home of Lieut. Clarence M. Janney, were published here today.

Lieutenant-Colonel Ames, according to the findings, was acquitted on the principal charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and conduct prejudicial to military discipline, but was found guilty of drunkenness and sentenced to the loss of 12 numbers in his relative rank in the army.

Brigadier-General Ramsey B. Potts, commanding the Department of Luzon, in his review of the findings, severely criticises the court, of which Brigadier-General John J. Pershing was president.

Lieutenant-Colonel Ames already has returned to duty with his command, the Twelfth Infantry. According to the testimony Lieut. Janney and his wife quarreled while guests at the Ames home and Janney shot himself while in the presence of Mrs. Janney and Ames, who weer the only witnesses to the tragedy.

MAYOR GAYNOR CONTINUES TO GROW STRONGER DAILY

May Be Able to Make Journey Into Adirondacks in Two Weeks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Mayor Gaynor steadily continues along the path to recovery and when he awoke today he seemed to be stronger than at any time since he was shot. Danger of an infection is almost past, although everything is in readiness should circumstances render an operation necessary. Should no complications develop it is believed that Mayor Gaynor can be taken to the camp of a friend in the Adirondacks in about two weeks.

The following bulletin was given out this afternoon:

"The Mayor continues to improve. His temperature, pulse and respiration are the same as this morning.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN ASKS $600 YEARLY FOR HER CLOTHING

Mrs. Bernice Shevlin Declares Modish Attire Is Expensive.

OPINIONS ARE VARIED

Some Declare Estimate Is High While Others Think It Low.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 16.—In asking for allmony from her husband, Sylvanus Shevlin, Mrs. Bernice Jennings Shevlin makes the sworn statement in the Circuit Court that it requires $800 for a woman to dress "even modestly" in St. Louis.

Mrs. Shevlin's assertion astonished Adair County women, accustomed though they are to the high cost of living. But they admit that the would-be divorcee should know what she is talking about, as she has lived in St. Louis and has mingled there with the fortunate set whose dress has given the women of the Missouri metropolis some fame in the world sartorial. Mrs. Shevlin indicates that she will return to reside in St. Louis when her suit is disposed of.

Is Allowed $60 a Month.

Mrs. Shevlin was married in St. Louis four years ago, the wedding having been the culmination of a schooldays's romance. She was a St. Louis girl then, but recently has been living at Novinger, a small mining city in Adair County.

Mrs. Shevlin appeared before Judge Shelton yesterday and supported her demand for alimony by representing that her husband is worth $30,000 and draws a salary exceeding $300 a month.

It appears that after devoting $50 a month to her wardrobe the plaintiff will have to be content with very simple things in the way of other essentials of life in such an extravagant city as St. Louis, as the Court allowed only $60 a month alimony.

While many of the Adair County women appear to think Mrs. Shevlin's estimate of the amount required to properly gown St. Louis women is a trifle high, there are others who say her figures are modest, indeed.

They point to the fact that Miss Julia Morosini of New York found $200,000 a year none too much for her needs when it came to following the whims of the milliners and the modistes.

ST. LOUIS COSTUMERS THINK $600 LOW FOR WOMAN'S DRESS

Managers of the costume departments of big St. Louis shops agree with Mrs. Shevlin that $600 a year is a small allowance for dress, if a woman has a social position to maintain.

"If she had a trip to make, the cost of her wardrobe would exceed $600, even with economy," said Mrs. Aimee Nacke. "Indeed, I do not see how she could dress comfortably on that sum, even if she were a stay-at-home. A business woman, neatly, but not overdressed, with a few modest evening and dinner gowns, might be able to get along on that, but a woman of position couldn't, unless she made some of her own gowns and designed nearly all of them. What we call a ready-made woman could not begin to dress on that sum. I should say $800 a year is a very light sum for a well-dressed woman."

"Many women spend as much as $600 on a single gown," said another department manager, who did not wish to have his name used. "On an allowance of that sum for the year a woman could have no handsome gowns. She would be forced to buy inexpensive garments, and to be exceedingly careful about her expenditures. With rigid economy she might manage to get along."

Another costumer said that even for a woman in moderate circumstances to spend $800 a year on clothes would not be unusual.

"It would be no exaggeration to say that many women whose husbands are on moderate salaries spend that much," she said. "For a woman of social position to try to get along on it would be out of the question. Their expenditures often run into the thousands of dollars. It would be hard to strike an average for them, because women in the same set often differ so in that regard. But it is safe to say that $800 would not be enough."

Economy Necessary.

William Madden, costumer for another department store, said that if a woman avoided expenditures for imported garments and costly dinner gowns she could dress very nicely for $800 a year.

"This would include her wardrobe for out-of-town trips and that sort of thing," he added, "but of course she would have to exercise discretion about the quality of clothes she bought. She could have good materials, however, and present a nice appearance, on $600 a year, that sum covering everything."

LIST OF BRUSSELS PRIZES SAFE

BRUSSELS, Aug. 16.—The list of awards to exhibtors at the Brussels Exposition, which, it was first anpounced, was lost in the fire of Sunday, is still available and exhibitors will receive their prizes. The commissioner-general of the exhibition, fearing accidents, had a complete duplicate list, which he kept at his residence in this city.

The estimates of the loss from the fire are from $1,200,000 to $3,000,000.

IRON MOUNTAIN TRAIN WRECKED; 2 DEAD; 16 HURT

Engineer With Speed Record Is Victim With Fireman at Annapolis, Mo.

Two men are reported to have been killed, 10 mail clerks and half a dozen trainmen hurt, in the wreck of the Iron Mountain fast mail, which left St. Louis at 2:30 a. m. Tuesday. It jumped the track at Annapolis, Mo., while rounding a curve at a speed said to be nearly 60 miles an hour.

William Wonder, engineer of the train, and the fireman are said to be dead. Conductor Williams is said to have suffered a broken wrist. The names of the others injured could not be obtained.

Wonder has a record for taking the fast mail through on schedule time, even in the face of obstacles, and holds the record for the run from St. Louis to Poplar Bluff, which he made three months ago in 2 hours and 59 minutes. The trip usually requires more than four hours. Wonder's high speed was due to a delay soon after he left St. Louis.

The wreck is the fourth within two years of the fast mail. Two of the previous wrecks were in St. Louis, one of them being at the Ivory avenue crossing.

At the Annex Postoffice, Union Station, reports were received at noon stating that all the 10 mail clerks on the train were injured. The injuries of individuals were not detailed. The clerks on the train, all of whom live in or near St. Louis, were B. D. Lydick, E. M. Reilly, R. B. Burrell, F. A. Carter, William B. Landes, A. L. Barton, Van Rhinehart, P. W. Hill, C. S. McSpadden and R. L. Booker.

34 PASSENGERS HURT WHEN ENGINE GOES THROUGH BRIDGE

NEVADA, Mo., Aug. 16.—The tender of a Missouri Pacific train jumped the track and went through a bridge, five miles north of here this morning. The mail, baggage, smoking and chair cars were wrecked. Thirty-four passengers were cut and bruised, but no one was dangerously hurt.

Fireman Grover Murdock of Nevada was badly scalded. Engineer John Higgins jumped and escaped. A negro tramp riding on the "blind baggage" was killed.

The train left Kansas City at 2:10 a. m. and was due in Nevada at 6:10 a. m.

Tobacco Taxes Increased $8,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—It is estimated that Government internal revenues for the present fiscal year will be increased about $8,000,000 in consequence of the increased taxes on tobacco and cigarettes provided by the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

BURTON DECLARES HE STRANGLED MEN IN SELF-DEFENSE

Alton Giant Insists He Can Prove His Innocence.

John Burton, son of Acting Mayor George Burton of Alton, who is in the County Jail at Edwardsville facing responsibility for the death of Leo Wentz and Louis Welbrecht of Marine, two men he admits choking to death with his bare hands, was not discouraged Tuesday morning at learning the result of the inquest Monday night. The coroner's jury held him for murder without bail to await the action of the Circuit Court grand jury which assembles Oct. 17.

In the jail at Edwardsville Tuesday Burton gave out the first interview since the tragedy of Saturday night.

"I am not worried by the jury's verdict," he said. "It is all right. I am confident of proving my innocence when the case comes up. What I did was in self-defense and I can easily show this.

"I do not care to discuss the details of the affair, all of which I have explained fully to my lawyer, but I will say, that if it had taken place in the light, the men would be alive today. We could not see what we were doing, as the place was in black darkness, and I did not know that I had killed the men until I obtained assistance.

"Two years ago I gave up wrestling at my mother's request, because she was afraid that I might hurt some one or be hurt myself in the rough game."

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE'S WILL PREVENTS BURIAL IN ABBEY

Executors Say They Will Obey Injunction to Make Interment Simple and Private.

They consider themselves bound by the terms of her will, in which Miss Nightingale expressed a wish for a simple private funeral.

TERMINAL CAPITAL INCREASED

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas Terminal Co. of St. Louis today filed a statement with the Secretary of State increasing its capital stock from $100,000 to $10,000,000.

This increase was voted at a meeting of the stockholders held in St. Louis Aug. 10, and ratified by the Board of Directors Aug. 15. It is certified to by E. Hawley, president, and C. N. Whitehead, secretary. The fee paid to the State by the company on this increase of capital was $4,966.

NEW YORK STATE G. O. P. COMMITTEE SLAPS ROOSEVELT

His Request to Be Made Temporary Chairman of State Convention Is Rejected.

REJECTED BY VOTE OF 20 TO 15—SHERMAN CHOSEN

Lloyd C. Griscom, Who Presented Former President's Name, Says Honor Was Obviously Due Him, and Predicts Fight in the Coming Primaries.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt received the worst black eye of his political career today when the Republican State Committee refused to honor him by making him the temporary chairman of the Republican State Convention and chose Vice-President Sherman for the place.

Roosevelt's name was presented by Llody C. Griscom who declared after the meeting of the Committee was adjourned that the honor "obviously" belonged to the former president and pdedicted that the matter would be carried into primary fights.

The action of the State Committee was the more surprising as Mr. Griscom had returned from Oyster Bay this morning with the statement that there would be harmony in New York State this year between the Roosevelt and Taft forces. He admitted that there would be trouble in making peace so far as the rest of the country was concerned, but in this State he was sure a truce would be reached.

While Mr. Griscom would not say so, and while Col. Roosevelt was silent, it is understood that a definite peace proposition was taken from Beverly to Oyster Bay by Griscom, that this proposition was rejected but a counter offer was made that was thought to be agreeable to the administration forces.

Now comes this slap at Roosevelt and politicians are wondering what the effect will be on the State situation. That Roosevelt will not be calm under the slap is regarded as certain.

After the meeting of the State Committee had been called to order and the decision was made to hold the convention at Saratoga Sept. 27, William J. Barnes Jr. of Albany offered a resolution presenting the name of Vice-President Sherman for temporary chairman of the State Convention. Lloyd C. Griscom moved to substitute the name of Col. Roosevelt and also moved that the vote be postponed until later.

Roosevelt's Request Is Refused by Committee by Vote of 20 to 15

After much debate the motion to postpone was defeated by a vote of 12 to 23. The resolution to make Col. Roosevelt temporary chairman was then lost by a vote of 20 to 15, following Vice-President Sherman was unanimously chosen, Mr. Grisco and Henry Mack of New York not voting.

Among the delegates voting for Roosevelt were: Lloyd C. Griscom, United States Marshal William Henkel, Appraiser of Customs George Wanmaker, Secretary of State Samuel S. Koonig, Naval Officer F. J. H. Kracke, Representative William S. Bennet and Collector of Internal Revenue Charles W. Anderson.

Opposed to Mr. Roosevelt were, among others: Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, Michael J. Dady, former Congressman William L. Ward, Luther B. Little, William Barnes Jr. of Albany, former State Commissioner of Public Workers George W. Aldridge, James W. Wadsworth Jr., speaker of the House of Representatives, and Francis Hendricks, former State Commissioner of Insurance.

Col. Roosevelt came in from Oyster Bay today and met a few visitors at his office. He then went out. The newspaper men waiting to see him to talk with him regarding the action of the Republican State Committee were unable to find him.

Commenting on the action of the committee in rejecting Roosevelt, Mr. Griscom said: "I presented the name of former President Roosevelt after consulting with him. The place of the temporary chairman was obviously his, not only by virtue of his having been President of the United States, but by the signal services rendered by him to the Republican party in New York State.

"Mr. Roosevelt was anxious to engage in the political campaign in this State and his name at the head of the convention would have lent extraordinary prestige to the meeting and been of incalculable value to the party throughout the State.

"The action foreshadows a great many primary contests, as it is obvious that those voting to deny Roosevelt the office of temporary chairman will have to account to the enrolled Republicans of their respective districts for their action.

"There was no question of endorsing or not endorsing the administration. If an effort is made to show that the choice of Vice-President Sherman is an endorsement, whereas the choice of Col. Roosevelt would not have been, it must of necessity fail, as Mr. Roosevelt's views regarding the conduct of public affairs by his successor are well known."

"I never saw a more foolish piece of politics," said William Barnes Jr., of Albany, after the meeting.

Inasmuch as Mr. Barnes had admitted a short time before that he would meet Col. Roosevelt later in the day, it is quite likely that the Colonel will absorb some warm information about conditions in the State machine before he retires tonight. This being the second time the Barnes-Woodruff-Wadsworth crowd has downed Roosevelt since his return from abroad, the old-time machine adherents anticipate that he is due to change his attitude.

Even Col. Roosevelt's friends admit that a big mistake was made to drag his name into the proceedings of the State committee today. Two or three of them characterized the action of Mr. Griscom as a piece of boneheaded work.

Up to two hours before the meeting the Roosevelt men in the State committee did not know there would be opposition to their plan of making the Colonel temporary chairman of the convention and giving him a chance to air "my policies" in a keynote speech. As the old war horses of the machine began to gather, it was learned that the Roosevelt aspirations were not regarded with favor.

The decapitation of State Chairman Woodruff, which was prophesied by the followers of Col. Roosevelt just after the return of the Colonel from abroad, did not come to pass. He presided at the meeting today with his usual suave aplomb and will remain State chairman until the meeting of the State Committee at Saratoga, unless something happens in the nature of a political miracle in the meantime.

"I Die Fighting," Speaker Cannon Tells Post-Dispatch Correspondent

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 16.—Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, gave an exclusive interview to a staff correspondent of the Post-Dispatch at his home here today. He had just returned from an all-day automobile trip and came up the steps leading to his beautiful home two at a time. As his foot hit the porch flooring he executed a jig step.

"I feel as lively and pert as a 2-year-old stake entry and a blamed sight stronger," he chuckled.

CRAPS GAME IS RUNNING OPENLY IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Police Pay No Attention to Gambling Back of Alex. Smith's Saloon.

POKER NEAR THE BAR

Dice Played on Billiard Table in Back Room, but Entrance Is Guarded.

While a policeman was trudging along his beat outside and the neighborhood lay in quiet, the rattle of dice and the clatter of poker chips, interspersed with the curses of gamblers, were to be heard Monday night in the rear of the saloon of Alex Smith & Co., 100 West Broadway, East St. Louis.

Although the police, as a result of the recent exposure in Granite City, placed a ban on gambling six weeks ago, Phil Massing, manager of the Smith saloon, says that "craps" and poker games have been running there every night for months.

Massing's place seemed to have a monopoly on East Side gambling, as many other well-known dens of chance had closed their doors for the night. But in the Smith resort, which is owned by John Beaird Jr., man after man slipped furtively in and out Monday night through a secret door, shielded by a curtain, which led to the gambling room.

In front of the bar a poker game for money was openly in progress. A few feet away, in the rear of the barroom, were booths screened with curtains, from behind which rang shrill feminine laughter and the clink of glasses.

Chief's Son Seeks Information.

Massing related that on Sunday night Detective William Purdy, son of Chief of Police Purdy, entered the saloon and said to him:

"The old man sent me down to ask you whether you were running a game."

At that moment, Massing said, the chatter of dice was audible from the back room. But he replied to the detective:

"No, there's no game running here," Purdy answered, according to the gambler:

"All right, Phil, I'll take your word for it. If you say you have no game I'll believe you. Give me a drink."

The City Council has held up Detective Purdy's salary for two months, on the ground that he was illegally appointed to plain clothes duty without first serving an apprenticeship of a year in uniform, as the police regulations direct.

Keen-eyed young men, in the office of "lookouts," sat at the poker table in the saloon and intently scanned every newcomer as if they wished to photograph his features forever upon their memories.

At Massing's direction of "Take this man back," one of the "lookouts" arose alertly and led the reporter behind a curtain, concealing a door, which he unlocked. It opened upon a room in complete darkness.

After groping the way across the floor by touching the wall, the guide gave a significant rap upon another door, which was cautiously opened, emitting a momentary glare of light. For the purposes of secrecy, newspapers were stuffed along the threshold and into a crack in the door.

Inside was a large billard table, about which stood a dozen men. On one side sat a croupier, wielding a rake, with which he gathered in the dice after each throw. To his left sat the banker, with stacks of silver dollars before him.

At intervals he jingled and clinked the coins enticingly. Both croupier and banker wore large diamonds on their fingers and in their shirt fronts.

Loses by "New Rules."

One player, a laborer by his garb, stood over the table with trembling hands and eager eyes. His luck was unpropitious, and after each mischance he would turn away with an oath as if to leave. But in a few moments the spell would have him again in its clutches and he would grasp the dice box in a desperation of hope.

Once, with an exclamation of joy, he stretched forth an eager hand to sweep in his winnings. But the croupier was quicker and raked the coins out of his reach.

"You lose," he said, coolly.

"I won on that throw the other night," shouted the gambler.

"New rules," said the croupier, imperturbably.

"If you can't get it one way you will other," the loser sneered passionately.

"Don't have to play if you don't want to," replied the banker.

The laborer turned to leave, but in a minute was back again, snapping his fingers, whistling and cursing, "to bring him luck." After several more losing casts, he exclaimed:

"The dice are loaded, and I know it."

"I'll sell you a pair just like 'em for 5 cents," said the banker, calmly. Soon afterwards the loser, shrunken in despair and gnawing his finger nails in fury, shambled through the door, penniless.

"The game's on the up and up," said the banker, jingling a musical invitation with a handful of dollars. "Shake up, gentlemen; everything's on the square."

When the reporter was ready to leave, the banker said, cautiously: "Wait a minute; we're supposed to be running on the quiet and we've got to give the police a chance."

Several minutes later he guided the reporter out through the dark room, unlocked the second door and ushered him stealthily into the saloon.

Massing, with an air of genial interest, inquired concerning the visitor's luck, expressed hearty sympathy and said: "Maybe they'll run better next time."

Outside the policeman was pacing his beat and the neighborhood was quiet and peaceful.

fences?" it was suggested.

"No, sir-ee-bob," he replied; "they don't need fixing. Not in this district. My friends do that for me."

"Mr. Speaker, dispatches from Beverly say that President Taft is planning to reorganize the Republican party, and that one of the principal schemes he has in mind is the elimination of several of the old party leaders, including Senators Aldrich, Hale and yourself. What have you to say about this report?" he was asked.

"Uncle Joe" grabbed a perfecto from an inner vest pocket, lit it, faced the street, blew a cloud of smoke at a passing bug and then started to pace up and down the porch. When the Speaker gets into real action he paces. Joe Patchen, the hero of the racing circuit, never showed a more perfect sidewheel motion. As the "sage of Danville" neared the far turn of the porch he wheeled and snorted:

"I don't believe Taft contemplates any such action. The President is not the kind of man to yield to every passing whim of a minority. The men you have named as being objectionable to Mr. Taft are the very ones who aided to the best of their ability in passing the laws the Chief Executive demanded of the last Congress. We gave him what he wanted, and he knows whom to trust. One of the laws his insurgent satellites are hollering about is the Payne-Aldrich bill. Mr. Taft signed it, didn't he? And in his speeches on his Western tour he declared it was the best tariff law the United States ever has had.

Aldrich Made Concessions.

"There was not one member of the Republican majority who secured in the bill as enacted all that he had stood for. President Taft, Senator Aldrich and myself accepted more compromises than the so-called insurgents were asked to accept. In Illinois we wanted free lumber and my constituents wanted a duty on pretroleum, because they have the greatest independent oil-producing district in the world. We were beaten, but we didn't make our own interests the only interpretation of the Republican pledge to revise the tariff."

Here Mr. Cannon halted. A real grin split his face from ear to ear. It wasn't a smile, and he didn't even take that celebrated perfecto, made in Danville, Vermillion County, from his mouth. Another bug flew past. Mr. Cannon hurled his perfecto at it. He hates "bugs" of all classes, the "insurgent" being the most obnoxious by far. Missing the object of his aim by several feet, the "Czar" fairly blazed away with:

"And that report from Beverly was put out by one of the members of my 'Ananias Club.'" Didn't know I had such an organization, eh? My club makes Mr. Roosevelt's look like a Wednesday night prayer meeting at a fashionable church in a summer night compared with the human race. The members have lied about me so much that some of them really believe what they say.

"The story that Senators Aldrich, Hale and myself were to be thrown out of the party will be found, when traced to its source, to have originated with some of the 'insurgent'-Democrat allies whose wishes are father to the thought. You know that a small group of so-called Republicans under the leadership of La Follette, Cummins, Bristow and others would like nothing better than to gain control of the Republican party. They would like to see the men who stayed faithful through all kinds of storms thrown overboard. All they want is to be the captains, so they can make the crew do their bidding. They are trying to misrepresent Mr. Taft. They don't care how they obtain power so long as they get it. Alliances with the Democrats are one of their principal weapons.

Says He Will Die Fighting.

"The insurgents wont get rid of me as easily as they think. I intend to die fighting. I fought when the party needed fighters and don't intend to quit now. I expect to be re-elected to Congress by an overwhelming majority and then I will be a candidate for Speaker, but always subject to the will of the majority. If I am beaten in the caucus, which I believe is remote, I will willingly take my place among the ranks. I have always been a good soldier and I obey the will of old 'General Majority' every time.

"This is something the insurgents always have refused to do. The deserters are seeking to run the army, but they won't do it for long, even if they do secure temporary power."

Here the Speaker dashed toward his library door. There he dictated an answer to the question: "Will you be a candidate for re-election as Speaker of the next House?"

His answer was:

I have been asked that question frequently, especially by our Democratic friends and their practical allies, the followers of La Follette and Cummins. I have answered it, but so far the answer, as I gave it, and as I now give it to you, has never been published by our friends, the enemy. I am Speaker of the House, elected by a Republican majority, four times, and I have been in harmony with, and have to the best of my ability co-operated with, the Republican majority in the House of Representatives in the legislation that has been enacted for the last seven years, during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft. Whatever sins of omissions or commissions have been chargeable to me are included in the record for the Republican party. I would not change that record if I could and could not if I would.

I know of no reason, personal or political, that would prevent my being Speaker again if a majority of the House of Representatives should desire. Under these conditions, pending a campaign, I could not upon the demand of the enemy, pledge, in the event of my re-election to Congress, that I will not be a candidate for Speaker without acknowledging that the record of the House of Representatives during the past seven years is subject to just criticism and that the Republican majority with which I have cooperated in the enactment of legislation is subject to just criticism. That I will not do, because I believe the record of the party for the past several years should be indorsed and not condemned.

Would Abide by Caucus Rule.

I would add that no Republican Representative in the next Congress will be elected Speaker unless there is a majority of real Republicans in the House that will unite in a caucus for the organization of the House and abide the action of the caucus in the selection of the Speaker and the other officers. If I am a member of the next House I will attend a caucus of the Republican members, cheerfully abide the action of the caucus and vote in the House to vitalize the action of the caucus.

I want to say that the past session of Congress enacted more good laws than any previous session in the history of the United States. The remarkable success of the Payne law in restoring confidence and encouraging business and in raising revenue ought to have taken the tariff out of politics for several years to come, but the opponents to protection renewed the campaign immediately after the enactment of the law, and they have continued that campaign in the most violent and virulent form ever since. They have misrepresented it, they have resorted to every conceivable trick to keep the tariff in politics.

The senators and representatives who call themselves "insurgents" and who voted against the enactment of the Payne bill voted to increase or maintain the duties on the industries and products of their own states and sections. They were protectionists for their own people, but they were opposed to protection for other people in other sections. Senator La Follette did not vote to increase the duties on lead and zinc, but he defended the Finance Committee's schedules on these products in speeches saying they were not high enough, explaining, however, that he could not vote on the question because he said he had a personal pecuniary interest in the outcome.

Call Insurgents Inconsistent.

Senators La Follette and Bristow and the other so-called insurgents voted to increase the duty on barley and barley malt, for the reason that their constituents produce barley. In other words, these gentlemen, who call themselves "insurgents" voted with the Republicans on schedules that protected the products of their constituents and with the Democrats on schedules that protected the products of other sections of the country.

"Kansas just can't help doing things once in so often," said the speaker, resuming the verbal interview. "They first talked of populism and then combined free silver and populism. Now it is insurgentitis.

"When a movement starts in Kansas it just keeps rolling along until it comes up with a short jerk. Kansas always repents its sins, however. The State recovered from its former attacks and will soon throw off its present malady. You can't keep on fooling the people. They may listen to a few howlers for a time, but soon tire of being led after raise gods. What is true of Kansas is true of other states where insurgency has gained a foothold. Those of us who are sticking by the Republican ship have supreme faith in the result. We know from experience that the insurgent wave is the result of a passing squall which will soon be over. We may have to suffer, but our reward will come when the old Republican ship rights itself and goes sailing on.

"The American people will soon put the proper stamp on these little men and then they will have to start a new agitation or go out of business. Ever since history began the man in the minority has been seeking some means by which he could overcome the will of the majority, and we have a popular, if not absolutely reliable, record of one celebrated character ante-dating history whose fiat was 'Better to reign in hell than to serve in heaven.' He was our great insurgent and he was pitched over the battlements of heaven. Since the creating of man there have been those at work on earth to encourage insurrection against order, which is heaven's first law."

Mr. Cannon infused a chain of epigrams in his talk.

Speaker Cannon opens the campaign in this district tomorrow, when he speaks at a meeting of old settlers at Cissna Park, Iroquois County. He said today that he would discuss politics, but would not make up his mind what to say until after he had "looked over the crowd."

THIRTY-NINE DROWN IN SHIP COLLISION NEAR GIBRALTAR

Spanish Steamer Founders After Crash in Fog With German Steamer Elsa.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 15.—The Spanish steamer Martos foundered this morning off Tarifa, at the entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar, after a collision with the German steamer Elsa.

Thirty-nine persons were drowned, of whom 32 were passengers. The survivors were landed here. A dense fog prevailed at the time of the collision.

Nine of the victims on the Martos were first-cabin passengers. The other 23 who perished were in the steerage. The bow of the Elsa was stove in by the collision and her fore part filled quickly with water. The steamer, however, managed to keep afloat.

The Martos was a small steamer of 1046 tons net engaged in the coasting traffic. She was built at Dundee, Scotland, in 1883, and was 234 feet long. Her port of registry was Valencia, Spain.

The Elsa, a German tramp steamer, registering only 494 tons, is smaller. She sailed from Abo, a river port on the Niger, in Africa, on July 20, for Valencia, and was last reported passing Gibraltar Aug. 3.

Nebraska Vote Uncertain.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 16.—A state-wide primary election is being held throughout Nebraska today to nominate officials from United States Senator down to the smallest county office. With both parties divided on the question of county option and the insurgent strength showing itself in the Republican party, new conditions have arisen which prevents either side from making serious predictions of the final results.

REPUBLICANS IN TENNESSEE HOPE TO WIN DEMOCRATS

Opposition to Gov. Patterson Is Expected to Split Dominant Party.

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16.—The Republican State convention met today to nominate a candidate for governor in opposition to Malcomb R. Patterson, the Democratic nominee, and to name a candidate for railroad commissioner for West Tennessee. A notable feature of the convention is the scarcity of negroes as delegates.

Probably the largest delegation in the history of the party in the State was called to order by Newel Sanders, chairman of the State Executive Committee, who introduced A. A. Taylor, the temporary chairman. Taylor is a brother of Senator Robert L. Taylor, and his name is expected to go before the convention as the only opponent of Capt. B. W. Hooper of Newport for the nomination for Governor.

In a speech accepting the temporary chairmanship, Taylor declared the enforcement of the law would be the Republican slogan in the impending contest with the Patterson Democracy.

The leaders assert that the party's nominee for governor will receive the greater part of the support of what are known as the Independent, or anti-Patterson, Democrats.

It is understood that the platform will contain a strong indorsement of the administration of President Taft, and an equally strong condemnation of the course pursued by Patterson.

Lively Fight in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 16.—Voting California is devoting itself today to selecting its party candidates for State offices who will opose each other at the general election in November. The harmony in the Democratic party has removed the need of voting strength and many Democrats are registered as Republicans in order to participate in the five-cornered gubernatorial contest being fought out today.

Theodore Bell, the only Democratic candidate for Governor, unquestionably will lead his party in the general election. Of the five men whose names appear on the Republican ballot, it is virtually conceded that the race lies between Charles S. Curry, Secretary of State, and Hiram Johnson, who leads the "insurgents" element of the party.

GOES SWIMMING TO KEEP COOL AND DROWNS IN MISSISSIPPI

Fred Groff Dies in River While Companion Goes After Boat for Rescue.

Fred Groff, manager of the O. G. Roney drug store in Alton, was drowned in the Mississippi River near Alton early Tuesday, while his companion on an all-night boat trip, Charles Miller, who was not an expert swimmer, was getting a boat to go to his assistance.

Groff and Miller, who also is employed in the drug store, spent the night rowing about on the Missouri side of the river to keep cool, according to Miller's statement after the drowning. Early Tuesday they crossed to the Illinois side and went swimming from a sandbar, a half mile above Alton.

Miller suddenly heard Groff cry for help. Groff said he had cramps. Miller said he was not a good swimmer and feared to venture into deep water, into which Groff had floundered from the sandbar. Miller said he ran a short distance to get the boat and that when he looked around Groff had disappeared.

W. D. Fluent, a boat owner at Alton, started for the scene to try to recover the body after Miller reached town with the report of Groff's death.

Groff was 26 years old. Miller is 19. Groff went to Alton a month ago from Olney, Ill.

M'MURRAY PROMISED TO SELL LAND QUICKLY FOR BIG FEES

SULPHUR, Ok., Aug. 16.—Attempts to show that the Government was justified in delaying the sale of $30,000,000 worth of Indian land in Oklahoma occupied the Congressional Committee in the investigation of the McMurray contracts today.

Testimony was given to the effect that it would have been impossible for the Government to sell the land and distribute the money among the Indians as speedily as J. F. McMurray had promised on a 10 per cent attorney fee basis.

Representative Carter of Oklahoma was asked: "What is your opinion of Vice-President Sherman in matters pertaining to Indian affairs?"

"He has always shown a deep interest in the Indians," Carter replied.

"What was his attitude toward large fees?"

"He was opposed to them."

Douglas H. Johnson, chief of what is known as the Chickasaw Nation, testified that he signed the McMurray contracts. He had urged others to sign, but he never had been induced to do so by McMurray.

RAWN HEIRS MAKE NO CLAIM ON HIS HEAVY POLICIES

Accident Liability Companies Declare Case Was One of Suicide.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—No claim has been filed for the $105,000 in accident insurance policies by the widow or relatives of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon Railroad, who met his death under mysterious circumstances in his summer home in Winnetka.

Insurance men declared today that the liability companies, through their investigators, are convinced the railroad official ended his own life, and that the large amount of insurance money will never have to be paid.

It is generally believed among insurance men that the claim never will be asked.

James Campbell, adjuster of the London Guarantee and Accident Co., which carried $15,000 accident policy on the life of Rawn, declared that no claim had been made.

"As far as we are concerned, there is no money to be paid out to the claimants," said Campbell. "Evidence at the Coroner's inquest showed Rawn ended his own life."

George A. Gilbert, manager of the Employers' Liability of London, which holds a $10,000 accident insurance policy, expressed the same opinion.

The accident policies are divided among eight companies.

VENIREMAN ACCUSES A DOCTOR

Physician Said to Have Approached Man in Browne Trial.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Judge Kersten, in whose court a jury is being selected for the retrial of Lee O'Neil Browne, will investigate an alleged interview between Emil Wennerberg, a venireman, and a physician named in court as Dr. Kelly.

Wennerberg declared Kelly called him into his office and spoke to him about jury service. A subpoena was issued for the physician, but it was quashed when Attorney Thomas Dawson promised to bring Kelly into court.

Winerooms Found Operated Openly Throughout City

with laughter each round of the conversational love tilt. The woman with the child looked on indifferently.

Business Bad at Deck's.

Business was poor at Deck's wineroom at Sixth and Pine streets. A Post-Dispatch reporter entered that place at the same time as a young man and young woman went in. There were no others there. The young man ordered a glass of beer and the young woman took a highball. There was a nickel piano in the wineroom and the young man started it.

Roth's Cafe at Ewing and Olive streets, would seem to come under the definition at the Excise Commissioner's office of a winerooom. Drinks were served freely to men and women without any pretense of a meal going with them. Young persons in couples were continually coming and going. This place is opposite a large dance hall which prior to closing for the summer season supplied Roth's with a goodly number of customers.

Women Bought Their Own Drinks.

From Roth's cafe the line of march seems to be across Olive street to the "Bachelor Cafe" on the southeast corner of Olive and Ewing. The crowd was small in the "Bachelor" wineroom. This fact was plainly aggravating to two young women who came in unescorted, examined the room in the rear where the sign says chop seuy is served, and then bought their own highballs.

Girls were also in Roth's cafe without escorts, but none was observed drinking by herself. The unescorted girls kept to the rear of the room and used the telephone. After the telephone conversation they either left or else sat at a table and waited or chatted with the wife of the proprietor.

Drinks Served in Garden.

At Williams' "cafe," Compton and Franklin avenues, the customers were in the "garden," which adjoins the wineroom. There was nobody in the wineroom. Part of the "garden" is under a roof, but the trade seems to be so big that some open space has been called into use. There was no pretense at Williams' of taking a sandwich with drinks. The drinks were served straight and frequently while a young man seated at a piano kept the rough crowd in high humor with "Rings on My Fingers and Bells on My Toes."

Of all the places visited by Post-Dispatch reporters only one was found where drinks were not served without eatables. This was at "Patterson's," in the 3000 block on Olive street.

SENATORS TRACE COST OF LIVING TO TRUSTS AND TARIFF

Minority Report of Investigating Committee Fixes Blame for Increase.

FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Broom Corn, Woolen Goods and Sugar Form Concrete Examples of Robbery.

Tariff and Trusts Are the Chief Malefactors

WE find the three substantial causes for the advance in prices are:

1. The tariff.
2. Trusts, combines and monopolies.
3. Increased money supply.

We are without sufficient data to apportion the degree of responsibility between these three causes, but that the two first are the chief malefactors we have no doubt, and they are of our own creation or permission.

JOS. F. JOHNSTON,
JAS. P. CLARKE,
ELLISON D. SMITH,

Minority members of the Select Committee on Wages and Prices of Commodities.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—In a vigorous and illuminating report, made public today the minority members of the Senate Committee take issue with the Republicans and declare that trusts and combinations are chiefly responsible for higher prices.

In lesser degree the Democrats find other contributory causes for advanced prices demanded for necessaries of life. Taking up the tariff the report in part says:

"If tariff taxation increases the price to the consumer 400 to 500 per cent more than the tariff imposes in Germany, and to the extent of the duty that will prevent importation in Austria, why should it have no material influence in this country?

"But we need not go abroad to verify this. The Payne-Aldrich bill took broom corn from the free list and made it dutiable at $3 per ton. Thereupon the price to the consumer advanced $1.20 per dozen brooms, the tariff being represented by about one-fifth of a cent and the graft by $1.14 4-5, the consumer being the victim.

Wool Tariff Benefits Few.

"In all the United States there were 8 per cent of the people directly financially interested in maintaining the exorbitant tariff on woolen goods, and perhaps less than 1 per cent of this 8 per cent got 95 per cent of the spoils beyond a living, and yet every citizen must have woolen garments and blankets.

"We doubt not that every increase in cost of these goods has added its thousands of victims to the silent tenants of the cemeteries and graveyards; yet every effort to reduce even the most prohibitory duties so as to permit every American citizen to be warmly clad at a reasonable cost was persistently voted down.

"This discrimination in favor of the rich and against the poor was distinctly pointed out to the Senate while the Payne-Aldrich bill was under consideration. It was shown that raw silk was admitted free of duty and the manufactured article averaged only 55 per cent, while a duty of 135 per cent was laid on woolen or worsted cloths valued at not more than 40 cents per pound, an article largely in use by a vast number of our people.

Low Tariff on Luxuries.

"Champagne was put on the schedules at from 54 to 66 per cent while wearing apparel was taxed from 80 to 92 per cent. Drinking champagne was to be encouraged and wearing woolen clothes discouraged. So with hats, those bringing not over $4.50 per dozen were taxed 77 per cent and those valued at more than $18 per dozen 47 per cent.

"The President was misled into stating in his Winona speech that because the duties in more items had been reduced than increased there had been a revision downward. The President argued that inasmuch as 654 items were reduced and 220 increased there was a revision downward. It is argument based on numbers, not results, and is fallacious.

"The result of protection is great fortunes for the few and great suffering for the many. We believe that the amount of the tariff is added to the price and taxed to the consumer; that but for the tariff the commodities we buy upon which that tax is laid would be cheaper, approximately to the extent of the tariff; and that when we do not buy the imported article the protected manufacturer puts approximately the amount of it on the goods produced by him.

Profit for Manufacturers.

"It is difficult to understand how anyone can favor high rates of duty if he does not honestly believe that it will increase the prices to be realized by the manufacturers producing the article affected, by diminishing or destroying competition, and thus necessarily increasing the cost to the consumer.

"Then we were many times mournfully warned that any reduction in rates would flood our country with lower-priced German products, and that the smoke of American manufactures would disappear from the heavens. Now we are informed that the tariff has not increased the cost of these articles entering into every household and administering to the health and comfort of every family."

"The methods of the meat trust seem to be admirably adapted to taking from the consumer and the producer the largest amount that the traffic will bear. Its destruction of local competitors cannot be improved upon."

As what they call a "sample of the working of our combines," they say that "while everywhere else in the world the price of harvesting machinery has been appreciably reduced since 1900, in the United States it has been materially increased. The increase started nearly contemporaneously with the Dingley tariff."

As to wages, they say that "the fear that wages would fall if the tariff were removed, and the fall in prices would not be a clear gain to the consumer, is not warranted by the experience of Great Britain. Great Britain is a free-trade nation, and it is the most prosperous nation in the world except our own."

Showing the effect of the tariff on prices, they instance sugar, on which the American consumer, they say, pays more than the London consumer by the difference between the sugar tariffs in the two countries, plus 17 cents per hundred pounds.

Trusts Aided by Tariff Wall.

Taking up the subject of trusts, combinations and monopolies, they declare that "there are few trusts that could survive a revenue tariff. They flourish only under the shadow of high protective walls. Standing behind those walls that shut off foreign competition, and destroying domestic competition by consolidations and absorptions, they are limited only to selling at a fraction less than the foreign price plus the protective duty.

"That they reduce cost of production seems certain, but it is in rare cases that the public or the laborers employed by them participate in the enlarged profit. So enormous have been their profits that we find organizations springing up all over the country, like the Elgin Board of Trade, the wholesale grocers, lumber dealers—associations that have contributed largely to the advance in prices and the frauds perpetrated by manufacturers of certain goods by reducing the weight of contents of packages from 20 to 50 per cent and maintaining the same price.

Wages Higher Under Free Trade.

"It is about sixty years since Great Britain adopted free trade, and during that time, according to a table published in Whitaker's Almanac, wages have increased 81.7 per cent and prices only 3 per cent. It is, therefore, well seen that the abolition of the tariff in England did not bring down the rate of wages. Neither would it in this country. If we remove the obstruction, allowing prices to sink to their natural level, the question of wages may be trusted to take care of itself."

Replying to the majority's statement, in its report, that an "increased demand for farm products" is a cause of advancing prices, the minority cite the wheat crop as having increased from less than seven bushels per capita in 1900 to more than eight in 1909; corn from 27 to 30 bushels per capita, and potatoes from almost three to more than four bushels. Notwithstanding the increase in the price of farm products, the farmer, they say, "has realized a small net return on his labor and investment by reason of the increased cost of the articles necessary for him to purchase to carry on his business."

LE BLANC AND AEROPLANE IN WHICH HE IS TRYING FOR $25,000 FRENCH PRIZE

LE BLANC WINS IN FIFTY-MILE RACE AGAINST PIGEONS

French Aviator Beats Birds by More Than Six Minutes.

INCREASES HIS LEAD

Cross-Country Contest for $25,000 Prize Grows Exciting.

By Associated Press.

AMIENS, France, Aug. 16.—The first aerial race between the birds of nature and of man's production took place in the course of the great aerial cross-country competition and was easily won by man. A flock of 47 carrier pigeons was released at Douai yesterday at the same instant that Le Blanc in his Farman biplane started from the mark on his 50-mile flight to Amiens.

Rushing without a tremor through the calm air, the aeroplane soon outdistanced the birds and when Le Blanc reached Amiens the flock was not yet in sight, the first pigeon arriving six minutes and twenty seconds after Le Blanc. Before the last of the flock had come in, Legagneux, who had started at the same time as Le Blanc but who had consumed nine minutes more on the trip, arrived, beating the last pigeon by twelve minutes.

Le Blanc increased his lead in the contest for the $25,000 prize covering the distance in 1 hour 14 minutes and 29 seconds, Legagneux taking 1 hour 23 minutes and 51 seconds and Aubrun 1 hour, 24 minutes and 12 seconds.

Le Blanc's total time for the five laps thus far completed is 10 hours 16 minutes and 49 seconds; Aubrun, 11 hours 26 minutes and 57 seconds.

Hubert Latham flew today from Isay Les Molineaux, in the suburbs of Paris, to Amiens, stopping en route to take lunch with friends at Breteuil. He thereby accomplished practically the last lap in the cross-country race, a distance of about 68 miles, but in the reverse direction.

He intends to return to Paris tomorrow morning with the surviving competitors in the cross-country race. The aviators attached to the French army also will participate in the final lap tomorrow.

Reports sent to the United States by a news agency that Latham had started on an air voyage from Paris to London for the London Mail prize of $25,000 were denied here as unfounded. It was said Latham has no intention of trying for this prize at this time.

CURTISS WILL CARRY WOMEN ALOFT IN AEROPLANE FLIGHTS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Among the events for the aviation tournament which will be held at the Sheepshead Bay racetrack, beginning Friday of this week, are a number of passenger flights by Glenn H. Curtiss, with women as the passengers.

The aviator has received a number of applications from persons who wish him to take them aloft. While it is impossible to comply with the wishes of all these, he has decided that he will take up some of the women who wish an air ride during the meet. Mars and Willard also will make flights with passengers in their big machines.

Among the events for which prizes are announced is an attempt to bring the height record back to this country. Both Curtiss and Willard will enter the contest for height.

At the Asbury Park aviation field interest centers on a new biplane being set up by the Wrights to replace a machine smashed by Brookins. In the new craft, which is designed to carry five persons, if necessary, there is nothing in front of the driver's seat.

The front elevating planes are gone, and the two main planes catch the air in initial contact so far as the aeroplane is concerned. The elevating plane—there is only one—is located behind the rear rudder, and thus one of the earliest features of the aeroplane passes out of existence in this new type.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENT TO BE DIRECTED AT FARMERS

Methodist Bishop Plans Campaign for Evangelical Work in Rural America.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 16.—Another great layman's missionary movement may grow out of the statements made by Dr. Joseph L. Berry of the Methodist Episcopal Church regarding the decadence of the rural church and the godlessness of the American farmer.

If the plans of the bishop are carried out the movement will be similar in character to the recent great foreign missionary project, but this movement is to Christianize the United States, rather than the heathen countries.

The bishop has obtained, it is said, the backing of James G. Cannon, a New York banker, who is to finance the project. A great army of Christian workers is to invade the rural districts and advocate a wide revival. One hundred American centers, which will reach 2000 towns, will be worked.

In reference to the campaign, Bishop Berry says: "The great laymen's missionary movement has thus far been a campaign in behalf of foreign missions. What is now proposed is a campaign for the evangelization of the millions at home."

MOTOR AT $4 PER HOUR.

The St. Louis Taxicab Co. has brought a fleet of five-passenger touring cars to this city, which can be engaged at taxicab rates, or at $4 per hour. Phone Olive 2100 or Central 6800, and try one of these new pleasure cars.

Court Turns Down Iowa Governor.

DES MOINES, Io., Aug. 16.—Judges of the Polk County District Court today refused to grant Gov. Carroll's formal request that court be called a week earlier than planned, so that he might have a more speedy trial on the indictment which accuses him of criminal libel. The expense of moving the case forward was the reason for overruling the Governor's motion.

ABANDONED IT

For the Old Fashioned Coffee was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table.

"I had been troubled for some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Some times it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill it gave me a severe pain.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the cure to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum.

"A number of my friends have abandoned coffee and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old-fashioned coffee since Postum was first started in our house."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. There's a Reason."

JAMES E. HURLEY OF SANTA FE RR. DIES IN EUROPE

General Manager Succumbs While on Trip to Regain Health.

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 16.—A cablegram from Carlsbad, Austria, announces the death of James E. Hurley, general manager of the Santa Fe Railroad.

He was at Carlsbad for his health. His death was caused by heart trouble.

The cablegram, which was received by Henry B. Lautz, assistant general manager of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, stated that Hurley died today.

General Manager Hurley was 70 years old, and he entered the service of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Co. thirty years ago.

He left Topeka July 13, for Calrsbad. A letter received from him last Monday stated that he had been examined by physicians, and was found to have no organic trouble. His death was entirely unexpected.

Men gathered in groups at the railway offices here and wept. He was exceedingly popular with the employes. He had risen from the ranks, and never forgot the men who had been his comrades.

James E. Hurley rose from a section hand to general manager of the Santa Fe System. He had been graduated from an Iowa Normal school and taught school before he went to work as a railway laborer. Hurley was the son of a physician and as a boy he was a prodigy as a pupil. Although only a little more than 12 years old he won his class honors while his companions were 18 and 19 years old.

MADRIZ WANTS AMERICA TO TAKE CHARGE IN NICARAGUA

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Dr. Jose Madriz, President of the de facto Government in Nicaragua, wants the United States to send a commissioner to investigate conditions in the territory he controls and in the territory controlled by Gen. Estrada, to ascertain the sentiment of the people on their governments. This proposition, recently submitted to the State Department by Drs. Modest Barrios and Sebastian Salinas, has been sent to President Taft and Secretary of State Knox.

Madriz is ready to abide by the commissioner's report and is willing to drop out of the fight if Estrada will do the same, letting the United States establish a provisional government until the people can hold an election.

If Estrada should capture Managua, it would not end the fighting. Estrada would become the de facto Government and Madriz and his army the revolutionists.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS INDORSE HOSPITAL EXAMINATION PLAN

Board Will Meet Wednesday to Discuss System for Naming Visiting Staff.

The Hospital Board will meet Wednesday to discuss the competitive examinations proposed for the visiting staff at the city hospital. Physicians opposed to the examinations will endeavor, it is said, to prevent the adoption of any plan in order to delay putting the system into effect.

The faculties of the American Medical College and Barnes University have adopted resolutions commending the examination system as giving the graduates of all medical institutions equal opportunities to serve on the staff.

The American Medical College resolution, as drafted at first, spoke of the "insurgent" members of the present visiting staff as "rare humorists" in their opposition to examinations, and hinted that their plan was to make places on the staff accessible only to graduates of the Washington University Medical School and another medical college, but this was eliminated before the resolution was passed.

The Barnes resolution includes the following paragraph:

While the competitive examination may operate somewhat disadvantageously to the older members of the medical profession, who necessarily become rusty in the technicalities of the fundamental branches of medicine, it will hereafter operate to stimulate all those who desire to be known as abreast of the times in professional matters to investigate and study and thereby enhance their efficiency as practitioners to the benefit of their clientele.

Both resolutions say certain schools are trying to control the clinical facilities at the hospital, but the schools are not named in them.

SAMPLES BY THE ARMFUL ARE TO BE HAD AT THE COLISEUM SHOW

MEN MOST CURIOUS AT SHOW IS BELIEF OF MISS MARTYN

Outnumber the Women in Made-In-St. Louis Exhibition at the Coliseum.

SOUVENIRS PLENTIFUL

Bewildering Machinery and Dainty Garments Go to Make Up Display.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

IT WOULD be far easier and take up less of our valuable space to tell about the things not made in St. Louis, than to begin to tell about all the products of home industry so comprehensively exhibited at the Made-in-St. Louis show.

There may be a few immaterial, not worth mentioning, commodities not made in St. Louis, and not shown at the show, but according to the exhibition I should judge that a high exclusive wall might be built around the city and we would still live in the utmost comfort and plenty, so far as manufactured goods are concerned.

Some things, such as olive oil and foods packed by that means, Paris hats and gowns, Egyptian cigarettes, Alaska furs and many luxuries and necessities we've been thanking other localities for bestowing upon us, it develops, are made right here in St. Louis.

It is an awe-inspiring exhibition to a mere woman. I wandered about wonderstruck at the technical exhibitions of processes, overpowered by unfamiliar scenes. How was I to do justice to describing the process of making shoes, ropes and wire fences and artificial flowers, and trousers, and wire screens, and marble columns, and automobiles when I didn't know an electric battery from a steam engine?

Then Weather Bird Comes Valiantly to the Rescue.

I WAS about to acknowledge myself vanquished in the midst of the bewildering hum of machinery, when I caught sight of a familiar face belonging to what may indeed be the best-known representative of the made-in-St. Louis policy—namely, the Weather Bird, perched on a shoe company exhibit.

"Don't concern yourself with processes," advised the Weather Bird. "I just look at the finished products. Follow the crowds to the most popular booths. You will find an appeal to the feminine consumer in every exhibit. Why, the chief occupation of the show is the distribution of samples and souvenirs.

"Could men ever be persuaded to carry them away? If you look hard you will find that nearly all these wheels are going round for the purpose of evolving comforts and necessities of home life. The home in turn revolves around the woman, doesn't it? So there you are. The main factor of the Made-in-St. Louis Show is the maid."

Which is a very bad pun, but we will have to forgive it, we women at least, when it contains such gratifying assurance, and if it is true that the feminine consumer inspired something so immense as this latest Coliseum show.

Crowd Devotes Attention to Feminine Belongings.

I FOLLOWED the crowds at the Weather Bird's advice and sure enough I found its attention focused invariably upon some exhibition of feminine belongings where the feminine element was introduced in the form of a fluffy young thing in white as a demonstrator. The more intimately associated with the feminine personality the more fixed was the crowd's attention rivited to the exhibition. For instance, there was the exhibition of lingerie and pajamas. It had been advertised that the lingerie of certain manufacturers would be displayed on living models. And so it was. But the young women I saw in the underwear booths were fully clothed either in pretty princesse frocks or entirely adequate pajamas.

And it is a pity, for there will be many pairs of strained masculine eyes as the result. For although it may be this vast show was arranged with the idea of placating and inveigling the feminine consumer, it cannot be recorded as a matter of self-sacrifice on the part of the men who arranged it, and the men who are attending is even greater in numbers than the women.

White House Message About Shoes.

The September number of the White House Message, a monthly magazine, published by the Brown Shoe Co., in its White House building at Seventeenth street and Washington avenue, is just off the press.

The book, which contains 40 pages, has a bright and cleverly executed frontispiece entitled, "Back to Work." It shows a young girl, evidently back from a vacation ready to start work, admiringly gazing at a pair of the famous Brown Shoe Co. 5 Star 5 shoes, one of which she is wearing.

The photographs of the officers, heads of departments and salesmen in North Dakota, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Tennessee, Michigan, Ohio, Louisiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Indiana, Nebraska, Wyoming, Texas, Florida, Alabama, Missouri, Washington, Maryland, Georgia, New York, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Montana, Minnesota, Oregon, Mississippi, Michigan, Iowa, South Carolina, Idaho, Arizona and New Mexico, are splendidly reproduced.

NEW YORK CHEERS MISSOURI COUPLE AFTER LONG TRAMP

Crowd Greets Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Woolf of Kansas City.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Smiling Mrs. D. H. Woolf, 24 years old, of Kansas City, Mo., walked down Broadway yesterday with her husband, their dog, Don, and Dolly, the horse that had drawn their camping outfit from the West. The Woolfs and Dolly have finished a 2000-mile walk from Kansas City. They were caught in a swirling mob at City Hall Park and borne up the steps—with the exception of the horse—to be greeted by Acting Mayor Mitchell.

Mrs. Woolf claims the walking championship of her sex—in America, at any rate. The party left Kansas City May 2, and in the first month lost 16 walking days, but since then have kept steadily at it, averaging 25 miles a day, rain or shine. They reached New York sunburned, hardy and happy.

Husband Gained Five.

"My husband had worked too hard as an orchestra leader and composer," said Mrs. Woolf yesterday at luncheon in a cafe on upper Broadway, "and a doctor told him he needed more outdoor exercise. When we left Kansas City I weighed 192 pounds. Now I weigh 170 and feel as fit as a fiddle. My husband, who was always thin, has put on flesh.

"We camped beside the road wherever night overtook us, and these nights were delightful. With good beds and a tight tent you can really enjoy camping at night. And such sleep!—dreamless and sound. Your city woman, worn out with society duties, has no idea of it.

Taken for Gypsies.

People have taken us for gypsies, Indians and tramps, but many have understood us. I found a college chum of mine living in a little Indiana town, who was delighted to meet me at the top of a hill one evening. She insisted on taking us all in for the night.

"I have a hint for the women who have difficulty in keeping their husbands' temper. If a man is irritable, just take him on a 2000-mile walk close to nature and yourself, and in the countryside you will get back the old sweetheart. He can't worry about business because he is too far away from it. He can't go to the club, he can't go out to see 'the fellers.' He just sits down by the camp fire, and appreciates you and your good qualities."

MRS. WADDELL'S CURVES ARE MORE EFFECTIVE THAN THOSE "RUBE" USED ON THE DIAMOND

Eccentric Pitcher's Wife Proves Successful Displaying Pajamas at Show.

"Rube" Waddell's curves enabled him to win the strikeout record, but those of his wife, Mrs. Madge Waddell, displayed in pajamas Monday night in the Coliseum at the Made-in-St. Louis show, won complete victory over a throng of thousands of men. They flocked about the booth where she was posing and many stood spellbound for hours.

She was assisted in displaying made-in-St. Louis pajamas and dressing gowns by Miss Lowell Edmonson and Miss Marie McCabe.

They divided the interest of the spectators with a comely young woman who was displaying ankle and limb braces, and ankles as well. Many men of the soundest legs manifested a profound and tireless interest in the appliances for cripples.

BOND'S SENATORIAL PLATFORM TAKES 10,000 WORDS TO TELL

Ten thousand words of platform accompanied the declaration which Sterling P. Bond of St. Louis filed as a Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, with the Secretary of State at Jefferson Tuesday, a telegram to the Post-Dispatch says.

Bond filed his declaration so that he might be a candidate at the November primaries.

Come and See Merchandise Made in St. Louis' Greatest Store

There are 40 or more small factories in operation in various parts of this establishment showing you the superiority of "Made-in-St. Louis" goods. It's a very interesting and instructive sight, and by computing the cost of the raw material and judging the value of the labor you will appreciate that this merchandise is sold to the consumer at very small margin of profit. It's a demonstration of the advisability of patronizing home industry for the sake of your pocketbook as well as the sake of your civic pride. See the silk loom weaving silk before your eyes on main floor.

The "Live Wires Carnival" at Schoenlau's Grove, 5810 Gravois avenue, opens Tuesday night and will be continued three days under the direction of Miss Anna Rosenblatt for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. A big crowd is expected at the grove Tuesday night to see the soldiers drill, witness and take part in the prize dances and enjoy the other carnival attractions.

A handsome silver cup will be awarded to the best-drilled company of the First Regiment, N. G. M.

The reception, music, athletic and other committees in charge of the Million Population Club outing at Delmar Garden Thursday, Aug. 18, for the benefit of the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, met at the Planters Hotel Tuesday to complete arrangement. Charles F. Wenneker, chairman of the General Committee, presided at the meeting.

Every effort is being made by the 750 members of the Million Club to make the Pure Milk Fund outing the biggest ever held under the auspices of the organization. The club members consider the purpose of the outing—the effort to save babies of St. Louis—most important from a Million Club view point.

Balloons to Carry Prizes.

Chairman Wenneker announced Tuesday that a separate committee is at work on a free musical program which will be given in the vaudeville theater at Delmar Garden. One hundred and fifty balloons are to be sent up by the Million Club committees. Watch for these balloons as each one of them will entitle you to a valuable prize, if you find it.

Interest is increasing in the marathon race which, is under the direction of Dr. C. W. Bassett of the Missouri Athletic Club. At least 45 trained runners are expected to enter. Every runner who finishes will get a prize. The first man in gets the gold medal. The next three get silver medals and the succeeding eight bronze medals. All the others will get tickets for hats or boxes of cigars.

The runners will start from the Post-Dispatch at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. The majority of them are expected to arrive at Delmar Garden by 7 o'clock, where an immense crowd will be waiting to receive them. Chairman Wenneker says reports to him indicate that there will be 15,000 persons at the outing.

In addition to the free musical entertainment at the vaudeville theater public and professional men will deliver addresses. Pretty women of social prominence in the city will be in charge of the concessions on the ground.

Booth at Made-in-St. Louis Show.

You can't miss the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund booth at the "Made-in-St. Louis" show. It is the one just on the left of the main entrance to the building. Corn cispetts and flowers are for sale by some of the most pleasing amateur saleswomen at the show.

Miss Ollie Moellman is in charge of the Pure Milk and Free Ice booth Tuesday. Assisting her Mrs. A. H. Moellman, Mrs. Theodore Fach, Miss Florence Rundle and Miss Evelyn Spuehler. Miss Harmon Noonan will be in charge of the booth Wednesday. She will be assisted by the Misses Minnie Henry, Sue Henry, Ruth White and Grace Robinson.

"Little Monday," who will appear with Capt. A. E. Folger, "Whale Oil Gus," at the Pure Milk and Free Ice Carnival at Schoenlaub's Grove, is one of the sweetest voiced tenor singers now doing the summer theaters. "Whale Oil Gus" and "Little Monday" have an act that nowhere finds a parallel. Both are whale fishermen. "Whale Oil Gus" caught whales for 18 years, and "Little Monday" was born on a whaler. Their services were procured for the carnival by the Oscar Dane Booking Exchange.

Ever since the whale swallowed (or did it?) Jonah, there has been no other deep sea animal of such interest. Capt. Folger knows whales from the bone to the oil. He has caught 27 varieties of them. Anything visitors to the carnival want to know about whales Capt. Folger will tell them. Did the whale swallow Jonah? Go out to the carnival and ask Capt. Folger.

Did you see the pictures of the babies in Monday's Post-Dispatch? They are all going to the baby show at Suburban Garden Aug. 22, 23, 24 and 25 for the benefit of the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. The babies whose pictures you saw showed to you what babies can be if they gets lots of pure, cool milk.

Have you a baby at home that is prettier than those whose pictures you saw Monday? If you think you have, telephone the manager of the baby show at Suburban Garden and he will send you an entry blank for the show.

The show is being announced each evening from the stage of the theater at Suburban Garden, and flying squadrons of young women are busily engaged selling tickets. The squadron that disposes of the greatest number is to be entertained by the Messrs. Oppenheimer, manager of Suburban Garden, with a box party at the theater.

Sylvan Rhodes of 807 Garrison avenue and Richard Knight of 807½ Garrison avenue, raised $1 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund by selling lemonade. The boys had their stand on Garrison avenue, between Franklin avenue and Morgan street.

Airdome Is to Help Fund.

There will be a benefit show for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund at the Eden Airdome, Kossuth and Newstead avenues, Wednesday night. Special vaudeville numbers have been put on the program for the evening by C. F. Noel, proprietor of the airdome, who is arranging the benefit show.

The show will last one and three-quarter hours. There will be illustrated songs and the moving pictures will be the best to be had.

Beautiful Delmar Garden. ADMIT ONE

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

BOY 10 YEARS OLD STARTS OUT TO SEE WORLD, BUT IS CAUGHT AT JEFFERSON CITY

Son of William F. Thompson Admits He Has Enough and Is Glad to Return.

Roy Thompson, 10-year-old son of William F. Thompson of 5286A Page boulevard returned Tuesday from Jefferson City, where he had been held as a runaway. He had beaten his way in a desire to "see the world" on freight trains from St. Louis. The father sent transportation for the boy.

It was not the first time Roy had run away from home, and his father thinks the love of travel may have resulted from frequent trips they made together when Roy was a baby.

"On Roy's former trips he usually was gone one or two days," Thompson said. "He would come back home and tell us about his experiences, in high glee. When he disappeared this time I was almost certain he would make his way toward Kansas City, where I have a brother."

Roy beat his way to Kirkwood last Wednesday night and spent two days there. Then he stole a ride to Pacific, spent a day there awaiting a chance to get into a box car, and decided to walk to Labadie, where he got into a car and rode to Jefferson City. He was put off there by trainmen and was arrested, with two negroes on the train, early Monday. He had 30 cents.

The boy was covered with grime and coal dust and wept as he declared that he had seen all he wanted to see of the world, and begged to be sent back home right away.

Texas Desperado Killed.

LAREDO, Tex., Aug. 16.—Geronimo Gonzales, a noted frontier character, known some years ago as a bandit, but later serving as a deputy sheriff of Webb County, was shot and instantly killed in Nauvo Laredo. Gonzales had disarmed one policeman and stabbed another, when a third opened fire with fatal results.

Two Priests Drowned.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 16.—Two Roman Catholic priests—Father August Welch, German, and Joseph Nicholas, Frenchman, attached to Lesser Slave Lake Mission, were drowned in the Smoky River while returning from visiting their missions.

HOT-WEATHER CONSTIPATION

People should be very careful at this time of the year not to become constipated, and if they do become constipated to attend to it promptly. Many people have a special tendency to constipation in hot weather, owing to the sudden change in food and to the fact that the natural moisture of the body that in winter remains within and helps to digest the food, leaves the system in summer in the form of perspiration. Constipation should be immediately relieved. The best way to do this is not, as some suppose, by eating themselves sick with fruit and making the matter worse, nor by taking salts and laxative waters, which, as all who have tried them know, give but temporary relief; but, on the contrary, you should use a tried-and-true remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts quickly but mildly and which relieves permanently so that a steady and lasting cure results. A bottle can be bought of any druggist, in sizes of 50 cents and $1.00. Those who have not yet tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and would like to make a test of it, can do so FREE OF CHARGE by sending their address for a SAMPLE BOTTLE to Woman Trapeze Artist Is Russian Dancer and Can Speak Several Languages.

The vivacious young woman who takes the leading part in the Russian folk dance this week in Pain's spectacle speaks Russian as well as dances it. At present she and three other Flying Jordans are doing a lively dance to a lively tune, and are one of the added attractions for the added week of the open-air exhibition under the auspices of the Million Population Club on the St. Louis University campus. Otto F. Karbe, secretary of the Million Club, will give a banquet Wednesday evening to the 75 employes of the Pain company.

Wherever the company wants a new act, appeal is made to the Flying Jordans. The main purpose in life of this troupe is to thrill onlookers with somersaults from trapeze to trapeze, but the members can on occasion do pretty nearly anything from wire walking to folk dancing.

Miss Nellie Jordan is the young woman who speaks Russian. She speaks German and Spanish also, and has found those languages of use to her in the troupe's travels to various parts of the world, but there was one occasion when she found her knowledge of Russian embarrassing. This was while the troupe of eight was showing at Port Arthur. It is a matter of official record, according to the veracious press agent for the Jordan troupe, that some of the officers on the Japanese men-of-war in the harbor were reprimanded for leaving their posts to witness the exhibition. This preceded the arrest of the troupe by Japanese soldiers, who took them to Nagasaka and held them prisoners there.

Miss Jordan's knowledge of Russian was held to be strong circumstantial evidence against her and the others in the troupe. The Japanese thought she was a spy. It took two weeks to convince them to the contrary and then the troupe, having been deprived of its horses by the Russians and of its liberty by the Japanese, retreated to friendlier climes.

Mrs. Jordan, who nightly swings her offspring through dizzy spaces, swung them just as easily from the cradle to the trapeze. Their training for acrobatic work began in their infancy, and they are as much at home in the air as on the solid earth. Josephine Jordan, younger sister of Nellie, is the third feminine member of the group.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

ABILENE CERTAIN TELEPHONE GIRL WAS MURDERED

Two Possible Motives for Killing of Betta Benignus on Her Wedding Morn.

DIED AS SHE SLEPT

Found With Pillow Over Her Face, Empty Chloroform Bottle Near.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ABILENE, Kan., Aug. 16.—There is no doubt in Abilene that 22-year-old Bertha Benignus, a telephone girl, was murdered as she lay asleep in her father's house the night before the dawn of what was to have been her wedding day. Even Dr. Simon Steelsmith, the family physician, who first ascribed the girl's death to heart failure and later declared it suicide by chloroform, has come over to the theory of probable murder.

The gist of the physician's testimony at the Coroner's inquest was that while it would have been possible for Miss Benignus to chloroform herself, it was extremely improbable that she had done so. Everything points to two guilty persons instead of one, and the choice of motives is robbery or assault.

Bertha Benignus—"Betta," she was called—was engaged to marry Earl J. Livingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Livingston of Salina. He and Miss Benignus, who was a very pretty girl, had been engaged a year, but not until Saturday night did the young woman tell her family of their plan to go to Kansas City Sunday and be married.

Awake Until Midnight.

The Benignus family, the father, the mother, Betta, her four younger sisters, Mrs. Roy Sheerer, an older sister, and her brother, made up a late supper party in the Benignus home in celebration of the coming wedding. At 10 o'clock they retired.

The father and mother went to their room on the ground floor of the house. Betta went to her room on the second floor in the southwest corner, a chamber from whose west front window extends the roof of the front porch. Until midnight the girls talked back and forth across the hall. Then all went to sleep.

Sunday morning Betta did not come down to breakfast as usual. Her father called her loudly several times. He received no answer. He knocked on her door and then entered her room.

Dead With Pillow Over Face.

"I didn't see her at first," he told the Coroner's jury. "The bed clothes were pulled up smooth over the bed and I thought she must have gotten up and gone downstairs without my knowing it. I went over and turned down the quilt and I saw my girl there fast asleep, I thought, with the pillow over her face. I shook her and called to her. When she did not move I shook here again. Then I saw she was dead."

On the bureau lay a bottle labeled "chloroform." The cork was on the floor by the bed. The hooks of both of the front and side window screens were unfastened. On the roof of the porch outside of the window lay a half-burned match, the broken-off blade of a jack knife, a big new nail and several hairpins. Near the eaves of this shingled roof were two muddy marks that could have been made by a man's boots. Two muddy marks also showed on the inside window ledge.

Mysterious Note Is Clue.

On the grass beneath Betta's window, Roy Sheerer, her brother-in-law, found a scrap of paper which had been torn from a grocery bill made out to Betta. The other part of it still lay on her bureau. The scrap bore these words, rudely pencilled, evidently scrawled in a dim light by one whose physical and mental state was one of extreme emotion: "My God (here an undecipherable word) man I killed her for Christ's sake take the poney's (or rings) meat me a couple blocks n (or w). of here."

There was no signature. The point of the pencil showed double lines in places, as if it had broken under the strength of nervous fingers. Had this been thrown from the side window of Betta Benignus' room to a confederate waiting below it would have fallen precisely where Sheerer picked it up.

What is regarded as a significant clew was discovered today.

The merchant's billhead upon which the note was written was taken from a box on the table in the corner of the girl's room. In this box she kept receipts and private letters. This is believed to be further evidence of murder and to indicate that the murderer engaged in a thorough search of Miss Benignus' effects, probably in an effort to get hold of some document. It also seems evident that he was fairly familiar with the contents of the room.

A great crowd attended Miss Benignus' funeral today, among them Earl Livingston, to whom she was to have been married.

Shoe Company Gives Prizes.

At a banquet given by the Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co. to its 200 traveling salesmen at the Jefferson Hotel Monday night, valuable prizes were awarded to those who made the largest sales in the last year. The prizes were diamond pins, watches and cash sums. F. C. Rand, vice-president of the company, acted as toastmaster and the gifts were distributed by Harry C. Wood, the secretary.

RAILWAY INVESTIGATION.

According to the Philadelphia Railway World, the appropriation of $25,000 to defray the expenses of a commission to investigate railway conditions is a waste of money. It says: "For $250, or 1 per cent of this appropriation, the Railway World will undertake to furnish the President with the facts of every issue of railway capital put out in the United States in the last 20 years."

As a rule, one does not follow with confidence criticisms of the Government by railroad authorities. It is natural for them to protest against every effort at investigation of their secrets and their iniquities. In this case, however, the criticism appears to be just. There ought not to be any great difficulty in obtaining information as to the amount of stock issues that have been put out by railways, or as to the amount obtained for them. Perhaps, however, it would be more difficult to find out how much of the money was applied to railway construction and betterment, and how much to the private pockets of certain high financiers.

The most interesting statement of the Railway World on the subject, however, is this:

> The editor of this newspaper was once invited by a high Government official to investigate a certain alleged industrial combination. He was informed that the purpose of the investigation was to start a "back-fire," and was given to understand that unless the report showed the existence of an illegal combination, conducting the business in an illegal manner, it would not be acceptable to the officials who were promoting the investigation.

It is a pity the Railway World does not feel at liberty to disclose the name of that "high Government official" and the nature of the investigation desired. Perhaps some day, when the Government has finished investigating the railroads, it will be worth while for the people to investigate the Government.

If report is true, would it not be more proper to say that J. Pierpont Morgan and John D. Rockefeller are in restraint of the Chicago Tribune, rather than in control of it?

ESPERANTO VS. ENGLISH.

Invented in 1890, Esperanto now boasts between two and three million students of its superlative simplicity. A thousand delegates are attending the world's congress of Esperantists in Washington this week, seeking to give a new momentum to the dash for lingual simplicity.

But we fear their efforts are misdirected. It is an incorrect assumption that the world needs a simple language. The world still has Chinese, Russian, Basque, Arabic and Yiddish, although it has discarded classic Greek, Latin, Sanskrit and retains Pennsylvania Dutch reluctantly for political purposes. No language is a success that is simple. English with its illogical spelling, its barbarous pronunciation and undiscoverable significances is in a fair way to become the universal language.

In competition with our amazing tongue, whose intricacies increase with philological knowledge, what show does Esperanto stand? What would we do with a language in which the United States Senate could express itself so simply that the Supreme Court would not be asked to tell the senators what they meant? If we had a language which is as simple as Esperanto is declared to be, how could we ever conceal what we mean? What would Henry James do for a living?

If Ballinger is to be "dropped" before the Investigating Committee has applied the whitewash, what was the use of mixing the smear? If he is to be whitewashed first, why should he be dropped? It is hard to be a stand-patter without having first forgotten how to blush.

SPREADING NERVOUSNESS.

Professional public benefactors may have need to pause soon, until they can learn how far they may be increasing the evils they think they are preventing.

When a number of more than usually sympathetic or nervous people organize to prevent some particular disease, they may spread nervousness which increases the disease. Thus in the case of a proposed St. Louis "Society for the Prevention of Suicide" it is said that "suicide can be prevented the same as tuberculosis." Perhaps it may. Perhaps, also, it may be spread "the same as tuberculosis," by too much advertising. A great many people, with their minds drawn to any idea until it is fixed in their attention, are likely to be demoralized by it in body as well as in mind. So every text-book on physiology says. So it may be that sympathetic or nervous people, organizing to prevent suicide, may increase it as far as they spread their own nervous condition of alarm about it.

As we have examinations for everything else, it might be well to have a State Board for the Examination of Intending Public Benefactors, with licenses issued only to those who know how to control their own nervous systems throughout, and more especially the nerves which are overstrained in the use of language.

TAFT, THE PACIFIER.

Varying and interesting stories come from Beverly. Not only are Aldrich, Cannon, Hale and Hitchcock to be unceremoniously separated from the councils of the President, but Ballinger is to be dropped overboard and, possibly, Wickersham and Knox are to be led into the dark night and lost. The President is to have a new outfit of counsellors to fill a long-felt want.

The purpose of these shifts is the double one of mollifying Mr. Roosevelt and winning back the insurgents to ways of regularity and righteousness. The result is to renew the demonstration of Mr. Taft's political ingenuousness.

The President seems to confuse Aldrich with Aldrichism and Cannon with Cannonism. Will he rid himself of the principles with the men? The insurgents do not hate Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Cannon, but that for which they stand. They hate not Aldrich but the Aldrich law, the Aldrich methods, the Aldrich constituency. They hate not Cannon but privilege and tyranny and reaction.

In the execution of the tentative program will Mr. Taft denounce the Payne-Aldrich law as the fraud the insurgents believe it is? Will he say he has broken with Aldrich because he is against trust domination and not because of political exigency? Will he declare he has reversed his views as to Ballinger and now believes the despoilers of the public domain should not have a representative in the Cabinet? Will he admit he has parted from Cannon not because of the votes he hopes it will gain but because Cannon is the symbol of reaction?

Having done this will Mr. Taft say he hates privilege-breeding tariffs and loves equality of opportunity? Will he pronounce for progress and against stand-patism? The insurgents are experienced men. They will not be deceived by the swapping of Aldrich for Crane or the suppression of Cannon without the denunciation of privilege.

The truth seems to be that Mr. Taft thinks he can get votes without subscribing to principles and that victory for the Republicans resides now at Sagamore Hill. But no one has charged that Cummins, Dolliver, La Follette, Murdock et al. are carried in the vest pocket of the Oracle at Oyster Bay.

Has anybody heard Senator W. Murray Crane, Mr. Taft's new kitchen adviser, say anything about the Payne-Aldrich law's not being the best ever?

A FRANCHISE AND A CINCH.

The increase of the dividend rate on the common stock of Laclede Gas to 7 per cent makes it pertinent to congratulate both this utility corporation and the people of St. Louis. The management has been so capable that, despite the load of water in the securities, it is earning dividends; the people have assisted nobly in overcoming the same obstacle.

But in uttering felicitations we are bound to consider how much nicer everything would be if there was no water. Instead of raising the dividend rate to 7 per cent, it could be raised to 15; instead of leaving the price at $1.10, it could be reduced to 60 cents.

In Boston's sliding-scale franchise, an addition of 1 per cent to the dividend rate calls for a reduction of 10 cents a thousand in the price of gas. The consumer shares with the company in the prosperity. This is the difference between a franchise and a cinch.

Judging from the row now raging among the controversial champions of universities, colleges and schools, our educational methods must be worse than our politics and almost as bad as our business.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Although she has been living in retirement for many years, the world has not forgotten either the name or the service of Florence Nightingale. Therefore, the announcement of her death will bring forth a great chorus of honorable appreciation from all parts of the globe where womanhood is honored and history is known. It will be the eulogium of humanity.

The story of Florence Nightingale's service in the Crimean War reads like an authentic record of a special dispensation of Providence; one of those seeming miracles when for the performance of a great duty there comes forth from the obscure multitude a person so well fitted for the task by temperament and by training as to appear to have been destined and directed for the work by a divine intelligence from the beginning.

There appears to have been no accident in her career. From childhood she was deeply and sympathetically interested in woman's work as a nurse. She studied the subject in the practice of the Sisters of Charity in Italy and in France, and at a Lutheran Institute in Germany. She visited hospitals, asylums and infirmaries of all kinds throughout Europe. So when the call came for her she was not only willing, but prepared; she had not only an ardent zeal, but a comprehensive knowledge of her work.

In the Crimean War five nations were engaged. Great Britain, France and Sardinia were allied with Turkey to resist the advance of Russia. Many thousands of men took part in it. Some of them were of royal blood. Many held high rank and were much admired and envied. But all of them are virtually forgotten. Only a few old men can now recall the once famous generals who held the trenches at Inkerman or stormed the Malakoff. Out of all the battles and glories of that bloody and futile war, but two remembrances survive: the charge of the Light Brigade and the character of Florence Nightingale. The one is made immortal by poetry; the other, like a star, shines by its own light.

The fourth day's race in the cross-country contest in France shows that the Bleriot monoplane is the stormy petrel of aviation. It is almost unbelievable that Le Blanc and Aubrun should have started from Mezieres in the teeth of a wind that uprooted telegraph poles and should have reached their destination, 86 miles away, after a successful battle with such a wind. This is what they did, however, and it is a promise of something as thrilling and instructive in the coming race from St. Louis to New York for the $30,000 prize. As a record it is reassuring as showing that in skilled hands the best type of flying machine can defy the weather.

Temperatures below normal for the week, says the Weather Bureau, by way of showing that it is not given to regularity and stand-patism.

Mr. Roosevelt, there are renewed assurances, has progressive ideas; in fact, as he remarked to Mr. Harriman, he is a "practical man."

Mr. Beggs hasn't changed a bit. His motives are still exquisitely eleemosynary.

Noisy Street Cars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Please publish this, my complaint against some of the noisy cars run by the United Railways Co. Our street paving is being changed to eliminate the noise; why not insist on properly equipped cars for same purpose? Market street car No. 2447 has reached the limit in noise making and has surpassed the limit of human endurance. There are others, maybe not so bad but still out of reason. QUIET.

Right Living.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Apropos to the low wages prevailing in this country (mainly attributable to the influx of labor that would be better off at home in Europe), this citation from the Scottish poet, Campbell, has a very pertinent bearing:

"Is this improvement? Where the human breed degenerate as they swarm and overflow;
Till toil becomes cheaper than the trodden weed,
And man competes with man like foe with foe;
Till death that thins them scarce seems public woe.
Improvement? Shines it in the poor man's eye
Or blooms it on the cheek of labor? No!
To gorge a few with trade's precarious prize
We banish rural peace and breathe unwholesome skies."

SIDNEY AVERILL.

People Flock Where Conditions Favor.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The official census of St. Louis is not yet announced. It is a humiliation that might be deferred indefinitely. The interests that should make for this city's growth and material progress do not want a million population. All assertions to the contrary are based on loose ideas. The item of rents alone have driven 15,000 or 20,000 people out of this town in the last five years. The 10,000 "for rent" signs tell their own story. People are not paying a bonus for the privilege of living in any particular locality. The great middle and working classes naturally gravitate to the cities and towns where they can do the best. St. Louis greed presumes too largely upon the ignorance of the masses. CITIZEN.

Cinder Nuisance on Trains.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The flying cinders that enter the coaches and the passengers' eyes on American railways are a terrible nuisance in traveling during the summer months. Surely some invention could be found which would do away, with it. If the smokestacks were covered with a wire mesh, as used to be the case in early railroad days, and some means could be found for allowing the cinders to drop to the ground by means, say, of a double cylinder arrangement around the smokestack, no cinders would escape to be swept by the wind into the coaches. I believe many more persons would travel by rail for pleasure if a solution to this problem could be discovered. W.

Reform of Convicts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I see Gov. Hadley is going to pardon a few young convicts and get them employment on farms. It is a noble undertaking, and if he can only protect them from the detectives it will result in much good. The detective system that has grown up since our Civil War will not let a convict reform. They hound him all the time so he cannot get employment or hold it. It is not to their interest for the convict to reform. They march them up to the captain's office to make a showing that they are working. I am an old man and never was arrested as a criminal in my life, but I have been observing the detective system for many years, and a young man that makes a mistake and goes to the workhouse or penitentiary, unless he has very influential friends, had just as well try to build a ladder to the moon as to try to reform. If Gov. Hadley will investigate the detective system I am sure he would discover the wrongs they are perpetrating and find some way to remedy them, especially in grand old Missouri. I have seen some good clean men as detectives that would not under any pretext wrong an individual. PIE EATER.

A Glorious Old Maid.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Florence Nightingale, an old maid, lived to be 90. Had she married and been the mother of a large family her name would never have been known, and she might have died of worry at 50. As it is, she will never be forgotten, and if there are angels she is one today. Let those women who have failed to find a desirable husband take heart. The most useful woman may not be the one who brings up a large family of poorly trained children. M. N. V.

Canoes Only for the Expert.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial under the head, "The Meramec's Toll," in today's Post-Dispatch is to the point. The Meramec is a dangerous river, as there are many dangerous places in the river, as many old-timers that have been on the river many times can testify, and no one should go on that river in a canoe that is not an experienced oarsman. A skiff would be much safer with the inexperienced and less danger of upsetting. Take the canoes off and put on skiffs on the river and there will be few drownings. Will the Post-Dispatch advise the change? G. W. C.

Police "Unclaimed" Auction.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In regard to the police department unclaimed articles to be sold Wednesday, Aug. 17, at public auction and the proceeds to be turned over to the police relief fund, what right have they to dispose of those articles and turn the proceeds over to the police relief? Why don't they turn it over to the poor of the city? The writer of this letter has seen the goods sold before at auction; the goods are tied up and marked in lots; they take seven or eight coats and pants and tie them up and they only bring 5 cents or 10 cents for the lot; the same way with bread and sugar and coffee; nearly all the goods are bought up for a mere song. Why don't our Board of Police Commissioners turn the goods over to the poor of the city? What right has the police relief to the proceeds of this sale? If they don't want to turn it over to the poor, why don't they turn it over to the city treasury where it belongs?

THE VULGAR.

From Life.

Being vulgar is not, we regret to say, properly understood by the majority of Americans. Most of them are unconsciously so, and do not go into the matter in the right scientific spirit.

Some people are born vulgar and others achieve it. The process may be conscious or unconscious. It is usually the latter.

A great many Americans who might go on not being vulgar all their lives succeed in being so by going abroad; for nothing is better calculated to make for vulgarity than a trip abroad. California does not begin to offer the same opportunities.

To be consciously vulgar is a matter for deliberate thought; but as we are not used to deliberate thought we do not take advantage of all the possibilities and most of us remain, as we were born, unconsciously vulgar.

Vulgarity usually increases with the amount of cash expended upon it.

As long, therefore, as our cash holds out, there is no immediate cause for worry.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

From the Springfield Republican.

New England postoffices do not figure numerously in the applications going on to Washington under the postal savings bank act. Of 390 postoffices which have so far applied for designation as postal savings depositories, less than 5 per cent are located in this section of the country, while Minnesota alone figures to the extent of 10 per cent. Most of the applications come from west of the Mississippi, where the states have been inexcusably negligent in providing secure savings systems for the thrifty of small means. No doubt in those Eastern states which have provided such systems the popular preference will remain with the state banks, and if this proves to be the case it is possible that the Western states will in time develop state systems right under the shadow of the 2 per cent postal system.

WOMAN AS A TRAVELER.

From the Atchison Globe.

When a woman who is traveling is assigned to her room in a hotel she looks up the hotel rules on the door and carefully reads them. When she comes to one as follows: "No washing of clothes permitted in this room," she gives a satisfied sigh. Then she unpacks her trunk, rings for hot water and within an hour has the mirror covered with handkerchiefs pasted there to dry, and has hose, underwear, waists, etc., hanging over the back of every chair. Then she gets out her diary and notes in it how much money she has saved. "There are said to be some very historic places in this town," she notes after detailing her wash, "but I will not have time to see them."

THE SAME.

From the New York World.

Cecil A. Lyon, Republican National Commiteeman from Texas, according to the dispatches from Dallas, "was apparently in complete control of the Texas Republican State convention" yesterday. This is, of course, the same Cecil A. Lyon of Texas who J. F. McMurray of Oklahoma says had an interest in his Indian lands contract, and the same Cecil A. Lyon who arranges friendly hunting trips with mighty faunal naturalists when they go afield in search of something to kill.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—One autumn, premature,
Gone upon a summer tour.
Was a very fine concern
While it lasted—please return.

Pleasant days and pleasant nights,
Miscellaneous delights,
No one kicking very hard—
Please return—and get reward.

Double sheets upon the bed,
Very pleasant, as we said.
Nothing like it in the past—
Please return—no questions asked.

FOUND—One summer with a sun,
Perspiration on the run.
Nothing doing much at all
In the city—owner call.

Sultry days and tropic air,
Back to summer underwear.
Sun a-blazing in the sky—
Owner can identify.

Everybody getting cross,
Lots of fussing with the boss.
Climate going to the bad—
Owner call and pay for ad.

THE BLACK PERIL IN SPORT.

Mr. John Arthur Johnson is not the only shadow upon the world of sport. The sons of Ham seem to be having a sort of athletic awakening. Chicago has a colored baseball team that has money to say it can beat the Cubs, and St. Louis has one that can probably beat any nine picked men from the Cardinals and the Browns. A colored runner from the University of Pennsylvania ran away from a big field of whites in a track meet at Chicago the other day.

By the time we have also to pay homage to a colored golf champion and a few other African masters of some of the more distinctively Caucasian pastimes the situation will begin to become truly amusing.

In the Fishing Season.

Five years ago Guy Tancil of Covington, while fishing in Pemiscot Bayou, rested his pole across the bow of the boat to light his pipe. In a twinkling a large fish seized the bait and the pole disappeared. Guy spent several days with grappling hooks searching for the missing pole and line, but no trace of it could be found. Last Saturday while "Rat" Webster and Guy were fishing in the bayou just above Sam Cross' store, "Rat" had a bite, and his reel sped out some 60 yards of line. The battle between the man and fish lasted half an hour, and a 7½-lb. bass was finally landed in the boat. A hook was found fastened through the roof of the fish's mouth, attached to a second line. The line was down in the water, and at the end was a pole and reel attached. They were readily recognized as the ones which Guy had lost five years ago. The bass had lived for five years within the radius of the length of the line, some 75 feet, and appeared none the worse for it. The pole, reel and line are in a remarkably good state of preservation.—Caruthersville (Mo.) Democrat.

ANOTHER CUMMINS.

Jim Cummins, who rode with Quantrell and slept out with the James boys, has published his autobiography. One would imagine that Jim had long ago chosen the hard-shooting young man down at Oyster Bay as his particular idol in American politics, but it seems not.

"One day when I was working in the field at the Old Confederates' Home at Higginsville, Mo.," he says, "Mr. Bryan came out there and sent word by one of the boys that he wanted to see me. I was very much surprised that Mr. Bryan should want to see me, and I was considerably embarrassed when I came up to the house. I remained in his presence about three minutes, and, not wishing to seem presumptive, I excused myself and went back to my work. I thought I had seen some great men, but when I talked with Mr. Bryan I realized that he is the greatest man of them all."

Aside from proving that you really never can tell, this fairly illustrates what is the matter with Mr. Bryan's following: In the first place, it isn't large enough, and in the second place, what there is of it overdoes it.

WHICH WAY IS THE WIND?

Edna Loftus that was until recently, had to learn how to make a pie and milk a cow before her rich Cincinnati mother-in-law would restore the bridegroom to the family check book. If Cincinnati will keep that up for a while she won't have any trouble getting a nice stand of grass in front of the stage door.

A Massachusetts minister thinks baseball will be played in Heaven. But it would still be hell for communities with second-division teams.

If Don Jaime is the nice little fellow his name implies he won't fill any place very full of his own.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Answers to Questions From Readers of the Post-Dispatch.

A. W.—Don't know lasting blacking.

E. R.—Last O'Fallon Park concert, Aug. 18.

H. S.—There is a costly electrical drill for iron and steel.

R. D. H.—Phone Election Commissioners, City Hall phone.

B. G.—Birth dates are in the mortuary office, Old City Hall.

J. D. S.—Mrs. Doxey was acquitted Friday night, June 3, 1910.

L. E. W.—Marriage license office is not open on any legal holiday.

E. H.—New steel cars of United Railways are 47 feet long, 9 wide.

Z. W. A.—367 may be correctly written in words with or without the and.

KID.—Champagne, domestic, per quart, $1 to $1.25; imported, $3.25 to $3.35.

Q. S. D.—Carnegie, car-nay-gy; accent on second syllable. Roquefort, roke-for.

N. R.—For tattoo see Answers July 25, in files in business office, accessible to all.

POOR MAN.—Talk to some respectable physician. He may consider your circumstances.

FRED.—An expert might destroy your too rapidly growing whiskers with electricity.

JOHN R.—Were we to publish business addresses there would be time and space for nothing else.

ANXIOUS.—Reduce fraction to decimal, making 4.7, and multiply by $8. The result, .376 or commercially 38c.

VIVIAN.—Copper-colored spots left after treatment for blood poisoning may be bleached out by a skin specialist.

VISITOR.—Young man visiting a visitor is not expected to take with him also to the matinee, or out driving, every time, the hostess.

CARSON.—Concentrated solution of potash (lye) would be more or less corrosive in a copper vessel. Platinum, silver, or block tin vessels may be used.

SENDER.—If a letter is put in the mail box at 8 p. m. it leaves the same night for Chicago and gets there the next day, if the box is downtown.

CONSTANT.—Burke was buried in the same grave with his son and brother. In your answer of the 13th "and brother" was accidentally dropped out.

MAUD.—Springfield, Ill., marriage licenses are not published in St. Louis papers, but a St. Louis correspondent there might send a license issued to St. Louis pair.

MRS. M.—You could not well give real mahogany the appearance of oak; imitation may be scraped to the natural wood, which may then be stained with oak.

OSCAR.—The best nerve and blood tonic is pure air, sufficient exercise, deep breathing, a quiet mind, good habits, with no excesses in either eating or drinking.

R. S.—Marguerite Clark is not married. She is to star in "Baby Mine" and also take a prominent part in the New Theater's production of Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird."

AMELIA.—Mayor Gaynor left the Catholic order of the Christian Brothers. His first wife, a Catholic, obtained a divorce from him. His present wife is an Episcopalian.

A.—William Dean Howells is a noted American author who has written many books. Born at Martin Ferry, O., and lives at 130 West Fifty-seventh street, New York.

HONEST VOTER.—The city or county in which the voter resides determines his eligibility for Central Committeeman. It makes no difference where his business is situated.

J. H. X.—Gentleman should order the dinner or luncheon, consulting the lady's preferences. She should express her likes and dislikes only to her escort. For her the waiter does not exist.

MRS. M. R.—Cracking in the elbows and knees when certain movements are made is caused by a lack of synovial fluid—the lubricant of the joints; or there may be an inflammatory condition.

WILLING TO LEARN.—Books on physiognomy and phrenology are in Public Library. You will know human nature better as you grow older. The best judges of human nature are born, not made.

ANXIOUS.—Lotion for enlarged pores is one dram of boracic acid in four ounces of distilled witch-hazel. Apply with a bit of old linen. (Eusebia feminine form of Greek Eusebius, which means pious, godly.)

G. V. B.—To remove car grease or axle grease, try covering spot with a paste of French chalk. Leave it on all night and brush out. That should remove the grease. Next, sponge with household ammonia and alcohol in equal parts.

EATING.—As to drinking at meals, there is a difference in medical opinion. Certainly ice water is detrimental to some stomachs. The person who drinks at meals is apt to wash down the food before it has been sufficiently chewed.

SUBSCRIBER.—Wallpaper paste: Rub smooth in quart cold water one and one-half pints flour, add four quarts boiling water; let boil slowly, stirring constantly 15 minutes; when cold, stir in one tablespoon powdered alum; never use warm; make thin.

K. C.—Kerry Patch was bounded by Biddle, Seventeenth, Mullanphy and Twentieth, says a history of St. Louis; but Mr. Jack Sheehan, excellent authority, says the old boundaries were: East by Seventeenth, west by Nineteenth, north by Cass, south by O'Fallon.

GRATLIN.—To clean chamois: Never wash it in warm water. Use soft, cold water, using any good soap freely. Do not wring, but remove stains and dirt by squeezing. Never place it before a fire, or over a register or steam pipes to dry. Stretch out and hang to dry gradually.

J. M. H.—Cream of tartar is said to remove iron rust from cloth without injury to daintiest fabric. Mix with water to a paste, wet the spot, then spread on the paste, hang article in sun and fast as it dries wet again. After a few wettings if spot has not disappeared, dust off the dry powder and repeat the process.

B.—Kaolin, not kolin, is the word. The misprint was not in this paper. This is the formula, to rid the face of brown spots left by freckles: Touch the spots with the following: Four drams each kaolin and glycerin, ten of lanolin, and two of carbonate of magnesia; do this at night and let it remain; in the morning wash off with very little medicated soap and warm water; repeat until the spots fade.

RUBY.—First find cause of bad breath. If rinsing mouth with lime water and taking course of laxatives fails to relieve take one or two charcoal tablets daily. The ingredients are: Willow charcoal, 2 ounces; saccharine, 2 grains; pure unsweetened chocolate, 2 ounces; powdered vanilla, 1 dram. Use sufficient gum-arabic mucilage to mix the substance into a stiff paste. Roll out a quarter inch thick and cut tablets three-eighths of an inch square.

BEN J. MIN.—A Maryland woman writes: "My porcelain bathtub was covered with yellow spots resembling iron rust. A saturated solution of oxalic acid instantly removed the stains, leaving the tub a pleasure to behold. Care should be taken not to get it on the hands. If you have not a swab stick, tie a cloth to any kind of a rod. Pour a little into the tub, swab all over and rinse with cold water. Five cents' worth of the acid will make enough to use half a dozen times, and once a week is often enough to use it, as a soap-and-water bath daily in between times will keep the tub spotless."

"HERE he comes."

Down in the crowded tenement district where all the scenery there is unfolds itself in vistas of timeworn brick sidewalks and the teeming cobblestones of noisome alleys this cry is a signal that arouses great interest and excitement.

As he approaches the eyes of hundreds are upon him. Every movement, every quick turn and evolution is breathlessly noted. When he hesitates there is a sigh. When he goes forward again there are expressions of relief and renewed hope.

See. Now he has wheeled about and is going away. Sorrow is on every face. Disappointment overcomes the watchers. Too bad! He isn't coming this way. The crowd falls back, sadly abandoning the hope which buoyed it up.

But no! It was all a mistake. He IS coming this way. See how deftly he guides his lumbering machine. Note the mastery with which he lays his course.

Right on he comes. Now he alights.

Who is he?

Curtiss? Brookins? Curzon or Gill?

Neither of these.

He is the ice-man, savior of the tenements. And when he disappears up the alley, that waiting, feverish crowd of children will make a raid on his wagon for the cool fragments of cheer which will be at least a temporary benediction to their parched throats.

Cynical Quips

Copyrighted, 1910, by the Press Publishing Company.

THE height of the average girl's ambition is just about six feet.

It takes three generations to make a gentleman—and one chorus girl to unmake him.

To a man, matrimony is that ideal state in which he expects to share his sorrows but keep all his joys to himself.

Inviting a celebrity to come and display himself at your pink teas is about as audacious as inviting a stock broker to come and give your guests tips on the market in return for his dinner.

A woman seldom bothers about looking for her ideal man after she has found a real one who looks like a possible catch.

Dying and sighing for love are entirely out of fashion; lying is about the greatest proof of a grand passion that the average man indulges in, nowadays.

The great financial problem which confronts the modern business girl is how to save enough out of an ordinary weekly salary to pay for a husband in her old age.

The day when a man owned his wife is passed; she is now merely leased to him until she is released.

The bigger a man's vocabulary the smaller his love; it isn't his rhetorical soarings, but his long silence that indicate real emotion.

PERFECTLY SAFE.

I used to fear to take a chance
At ridiculing public men.
I used to fear to aim my lance
At foibles of the upper ten.

I feared the victims might arise,
Advance upon me in a swarm,
And hand me one between the eyes
Or jump upon my fragile form.

But now I give them all a swat,
Poke fun at any sort of folks.
I have about decided that
Nobody ever reads my jokes.

SOUNDS GOOD.

Patience—Isn't this "summer reading" stuff silly?

Patrice—Oh, I don't know. Here's something I just read which sounds good to me: "As the long Arctic night approaches the polar bear repairs to the foot of a cliff or some other similar place and allows the snow to cover him."—Yonkers Statesman.

Around the World.

LIGHT LITERATURE.

A book of verses 'neath the bough
May do for some.
I do not yearn for poetry now
That summer's come.

For summer is the time to fish,
When cheerful skies
Bend over me. I only wish
A book of flies.

RATHER HARD.

Bill: Do you think a man becomes what he eats?

Jill: Well, they do say so.

Bill: Well, perhaps that ossified man in the museum began by eating his wife's bread.—Yonkers Statesman.

HEREDITY.

"Do you believe in heredity?" I asked the pretty manicurist.

"Yes," she replied, as she gently rubbed my thumb half-moon with her orange stick, "my father used to work in a cut-nail factory."—Chicago News.

IN QUAKERTOWN.

Bill: Hear you're been working over in Philadelphia.

Jill: Sure thing.

Bill: And did you find it slow?

Jill: Slow? Say, I thought pay day would never come.—New York Sun.

The Body Is a Fat Factory

When a man or a woman grows fat and huge, flabby layers of this worthless flesh makes them miserable, it is a certain sign that somewhere within the organism of that man or woman there is something radically wrong. The healthy man or woman digests all that is good in food and throws off in a natural manner all that is bad. This is what the digestive juices are made for. When these juices are weakened or too powerful they can not get the good things out of the nourishment we eat, and hence they turn into the blood that which makes fat. It is very simple to correct these juices in a fat person. This secret has been demonstrated in the famous Marmola Tablets which now have such a tremendous sale. They reduce fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They correct the faulty juices and give to the body the very nutrition it needs. they remove fat in a natural manner, but they do it so quickly as to be almost beyond belief. You do not have to diet or exercise and you may eat what you will. These little tablets are the result of a demand on the part of the public for a form of the famous Marmola prescription that will permit a fat person to carry his fat reducer with him at all times, so that each meal will add no more fat to his body. Marmola Tablets are sold by every druggist, or you may write the Marmola Company, 191 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and a case will be sent you privately by mail. The price of Marmola Tablets is 75 cts. everywhere.—ADV.

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever.

DR. T. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifier

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash, and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 50 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." For sale by all druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

MISS SIX TO BE NAUGHT IF SUITOR KEEPS A THREAT

Bride-to-Be Told to Prepare to Die if She Insists on Wedding Another.

Miss Fannie Six, a dashing brunette, complained Tuesday to City Attorney Anderson that a former suitor had played at sixes and sevens with her plans to marry another man Wednesday. The lovelorn swain showed her a revolver Sunday, she said, and told her to prepare to die Tuesday night.

"He told me," said Miss Six, "that I should never belong to another man than himself, even if my death were the only means of preventing it. "I offered to return some jewelry he had given me, but he refused it."

The young woman, who lives at 1718 South Twelfth street, said she had known her annoyer three years and thought at one time she loved him. But he misbehaved during the last few months, she declared, and she decided to bestow her hand upon George Stubbe instead. She is to be married by a justice of the peace, she said.

MULE TEAM DRIVEN THROUGH A BRICK WALL IN FREIGHT WRECK

Animals Killed by "Wild" Cars, but Owner Manages to Escape.

A team of mules, valued at $700, was driven through a brick wall at the Hauseisen Sauerkraut factory at Second and Ashley streets, early Tuesday by a string of freight cars which ran off the end of a switch. Both mules were killed instantly, and one side and corner of the building were wrecked.

A Terminal engine was switching a long string of cars, when a coupling broke. Six cars ran off the end of the switch, which was 50 feet from the wall of the building.

Edward Kleepisch of Collinsville, Ill., was unloading a wagon load of cabbage at a platform in a direct line from the end of the switch.

Kleepisch saw his danger in time to jump, but not in time to save the team.

Engineer Daniel Hickey of 2144 Farrar street, was in charge of the engine, and F. W. Isgren of 2825A Shenandoah avenue was foreman of the switching crew.

Lady Delegates Here to Crow Over Their Henries

LET us tune a little ballad
In the praise of chicken salad,
As we scramble to the show
Where the dealers, packed compactly
At the Planters, tell eggsactly
Chicken news we ought to know.

EVERY one would be a booster
Of the chicken, if a rooster
Or a hen of fancy breed
He could sell at prices sunny,
(As it is, the only money
That we have is "chicken-feed.")

WE could write a thrilling drama
Of the farm, if we'd a Brahma
Brood, or Leghorns quite a lot.
If we wanted to be famous,
We would name it—who could blame us?—
To be freakish, "Y & ."

KOBUSCH IS AFTER CASH IN THE EAST FOR CAR COMPANY

Local Financiers Expect Deal With Beggs as an Aid, Will Succeed.

Negotiations for the reorganization of the St. Louis Car Co., by which John I. Beggs will own one-third, or $1,000,000 of the stock, and George J. Kobusch will retain two-thirds, continued Tuesday.

Kobusch is in New York arranging with a London syndicate for the sale of the company's preferred stock, and for the financing of several Kobusch mining properties, two deals which are expected to supply him with the required ready money to finance the car company deal.

The progress of these negotiations were not communicated to St. Louis Tuesday, although Kobusch's friends said there was no reason to doubt that the arrangements would be satisfactorily concluded within a few days. Representative of the London syndicate recently made an extensive investigation of the car company property and of the mining properties.

Surplus From Preferred Stock.

The sale of the preferred stock, according to persons interested in the success of the negotiations, will give a surplus which will enable the company to satisfy all unsecured claims and have a fund to meet current expenses.

Ben F. Edwards, president of the National Bank of Commerce, one of the creditors of the car company, said Tuesday that he was not informed as to the progress of negotiations, and did not know what arrangements had been made to meet the outstanding indebtedness.

Saunders Norvell, who had been decided on for the president of the St. Louis Car Co., before Beggs appeared in the deal, said Tuesday he was entirely out of the negotiations.

"I do not know exactly what the situation is," said Norvell. "I am out of it, have dropped the whole thing, and it is up to Beggs and Kobusch. If they can get the money, I suppose there is no doubt that the company will be reorganized with them in control.

Declares Kobusch Was Fair.

"I want to correct what seems to be a misunderstanding as to Kobusch's attitude toward the interests which were negotiating with him, and which would have resulted in my accepting the presidency of the company. Kobusch was perfectly fair in his treatment of us.

"He had signed no agreements, and it was simply a case of his rejection of our proposition when he decided he could do better in negotiations with Beggs."

JACK JOHNSON IS KNOCKED OUT BY NEGRO BAPTISTS

Resolutions declaring that Jack Johnson does not represent the best aspirations of the negro race, and advising young men of that race not to look up to the champion heavyweight as a model, will be introduced in the Berean (negro) Baptist Association, which meets in Clayton Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Rev. J. R. Bennett of the Fifth Baptist Church, St. Louis, secretary of the association, said Tuesday that several of the ministers thought it desirable to state clearly the position of the negro churches in respect to pugilism, and to show the public that only the sporting element among negroes takes any pride in Johnson's distinction. It is not certain that all the delegates will think the resolution advisable, and there is prospect of a lively debate.

Auxiliary meetings will precede the association. The second day's session of the Sunday-school convention began Tuesday; a women's missionary meeting also began Tuesday, and the Young People's Union will meet Thursday. At Monday's session much interest was aroused by the discussion of papers on "How Women Should Conduct Themselves," by Mrs. G. A. Perry, and "Home Hygiene," by Miss Ida Peters.

STATE AUDITOR HOLDS UP RAILWAY EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

Gordon Orders Payment of Warehouse Commissioners' Fares Withheld.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 16.—State Auditor John P. Gordon, who, on a vacation, wired from Olathe, Kan., this morning to Willard P. King, his chief clerk, instructing him to hold up the railroad fares in the expense accounts of the Railroad Commissioners and other State employes until he returns.

No one about the Auditor's office seems to know the reason for Gordon's telegram.

Gordon is nurturing a little boom for Governor, and making a reputation as a watchdog of the treasury. The telegram may have been intended to let the voters know that he is personally superintending all railroad accounts, it is said; or it may be that he has discovered something irregular in such accounts.

MEN OF FEATHER FLOCK TOGETHER TO TALK CHICKEN

Three Hundred Dealers in Fancy Poultry Here to Adopt New Standard.

Three hundred poultry dealers, in high feather, assembled here from all parts of the United States and from Canada, are holding their thirty-fifth convention at the Planters Hotel.

The Executive Board of 19 members, which always meets one day in advance of the big meeting, was in session three hours Monday afternoon, and was crowing lustily over the fact that 400 new members were added to the roster of the American Poultry Association, making a total membership of 2200.

The highbrows of the association are now ready to throw off the yolk of silence which has bound them for a year, and will shell out information in large quantities concerning the breeding of fancy fowl.

It is this kind in which these men are interested, and under no circumstances could they be egged on to discuss the common or garden-scratching variety of hen.

Where Prices Are High.

The general public, which roars when eggs go to 30 cents a dozen, and which kicks when it must pay 60 or 70 cents for a chicken for Sunday dinner, has little conception of the business of these men, who consider fancy eggs cheap at $3 a dozen, and who would smile at the thought of paying less than $5 for a fowl of good lineage and the right coloring.

A professional breeder never bats an eyelid when he tells you that "Peggy," a white Orpington, owned by Ernest Kellerstrass of Kansas City, is the highest-priced chicken in the world and that she is worth $10,000.

"The main business of the present meeting is to adopt what we call a new standard," said David A. Nichols of Shelton, Conn., one of the seven elective members of the Executive Board. "This standard is a book containing suggestions for breeders and rules for judges. A new standard must be adopted every five years, according to our constitution, and this happens to be the year. The Revision Committee of five is headed by Fred L. Kimney of Chicago.

Points of Fowls Told.

"One of our duties, also, is to license judges to preside at poultry shows whenever called upon to do so.

"In our standard are set forth the many points concerning all thoroughbred fancy fowl, such as game cocks, Wyandottes, the four kinds of Cochins, Brahmas, Plymouth Rocks, Minorcas, Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Ornamental Bantams, Game Bantams and water fowl."

The officers of the association are: President, Charles M. Bryant of Boston; vice-president, S. T. Baldwin of Toronto, Canada; secretary and treasurer, S. T. Campbell of Mansfield, O.

MADE IN ST. LOUIS
BY Wertheimer-Swarts Shoe Co.

Not simply because they are Made in St. Louis—

Not that being Made in St. Louis covers sins of omission or commission—

Not that there is anything to hide behind Made in St. Louis—

But, that being made in St. Louis in model, modern, custom work factories, always wide open for anyone to inspect—

And beside being Made in St. Louis and the wide-open-for-inspection model factories, because of the proof—vast, increasing, tangible, positive proof of superiority, in every detail of materials and methods—

And, also, because they are not only Made in St. Louis, but made right in St. Louis, sold and worn everywhere and have stood the test of nearly 30 years, is why this

GIRL SEEKS FATHER WHOM SHE HAS NOT SEEN IN 18 YEARS

Miss Louise Vandre Asks Aid of Post-Dispatch in Locating Parent.

A daughter's longing for the love of her father, whom she has never seen since she could remember anything has led Miss Louise Vandre, the adopted daughter of Dr. C. A. Vandre of 214 Hillsboro avenue, Edwardsville, Ill., to ask the aid of the Post-Dispatch in locating her father, Harlen Fry.

Miss Fry is 18 years old. She has been informed that, when she was nine months old, her father left her mother at the little town of Findlay, Shelby County, Ill., and that since that time he has not been seen or heard of by his former friends. At that time, according to those who knew him, Fry had light hair, brown eyes and a sandy mustache.

The baby, now Miss Vandre, was taken to Chicago while still an infant, and placed in the Home Aid Society. When 7 years old she was adopted by Dr. and Mrs. Vandre, and her name was legally changed.

JOHN R. WALSH WILL ASK FOR PARDON TO PRESERVE HEALTH

Convict Life Menaces Life of Former Banker, It s Declared.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—John R. Walsh will petition President Taft about Sept. 1 to pardon him from the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., where he is serving a five-year sentence for violation of the banking laws.

This information was contained in a letter received by the Department of Justice today from George Buckingham, an attorney for Walsh. The plea for a pardon will be based on the state of the former banker's health, which convict life, it is declared, has impaired to a marked degree.

If a pardon is not granted, an effort will be made to have the prisoner paroled.

AUTOMOBILIST KILLS BABY, THROWS BODY OVER FENCE

MATTEAWAN, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The police here are hunting for some clew to the identity of an automobilist whom they charge with killing the 3-year-old son of George Verdi, a well-to-do farmer.

The child was playing by the roadside when the automobile whizzed by. A projecting bolt caught his clothes and he was dragged beneath the wheels, which passed over his body, killing him instantly.

According to the police, the driver stopped his car, picked up the baby's body and threw it over a low fence or to a lawn beside the road. Persons in a cross street too far away to identify the automobilist saw him stop the machine, pick something from the road and toss it aside.

They thought it was a trifling object of some kind and paid no particular attention. A few minutes later the baby's body was found on the lawn.

ROGER BROWNS GOSSIP

ALMOST DISHEARTENED AT FAILURE OF HIS PITCHING STAFF—THINKS IT WILL BE HARD TASK TO RECRUIT SLAB CORPS

WILL GO ON EASTERN TRIP WITH BUT FEW NEW MEN LINED UP—KRICHELL AND CRISP TO JOIN O'CONNORITES AT NEW YORK

NEW BROWNIES WILL BE LATE IN REPORTING

But Few of O'Connor's Recruits Will Be Able to Make Final Eastern Trip With the Team.

THE Browns bring their long at-home stay to a close with the playing of Tuesday's game with the Red Sox of Boston, following which the team hits the road for the final swing around the Eastern end of the circuit. The O'Connorites will not return until Sept. 4, when a single game will be played with the Naps of Cleveland.

Against the Eastern teams the Browns managed to break even. They won three out of four from the Senators of Washington, dropped four to the Athletics of Philadelphia, took four out of six from the Yankees of New York, while the present series with the Red Sox of Boston is a 2-2 tie.

Considering the early season showing of the Browns, their recent work has been very good. Still it seems that Manager O'Connor's party that hits out for New York Tuesday night should include a lot of juveniles.

Unless Owner Hedges and Manager O'Connor have withheld their plans, there will be only a few newcomers in the Browns' squad on the coming Eastern trip. Pitcher Hall of the Joplin (Western Association) team, a Harry Howell pickup, is expected Tuesday and will be taken along. O'Connor says Hall will make his debut in one of the New York games.

With nothing to gain from now own by winning or losing games, it seems that Manager O'Connor should give as many of his recruits as possible a trial.

It is a pretty well known fact that Owner Hedges has a big list of recruits who are to be tried out for the 1911 team, but because most of these players are members of first division teams in their respective leagues, it is next to impossible to get them away until the close of the league seasons.

Catcher Krichell of Montreal and Catcher Crisp of Newark, both in the Eastern League, are expected to join the Browns in the East. Krichell comes in exchange for Outfielder Ray Demmitt who was turned over to Montreal, while Crisp was exchanged for Pitchers "Rube" Waddell and Bob Spade.

They are said to be among the top notch receivers in the Eastern League. As the Browns' catching staff is none too strong, a high-class young backstop or two will be welcome additions to the O'Connor machine.

The bulk of the Browns' newcomers, though, will hardly get a trial this fall before the return of the Browns. Then a majority of the minor league seasons will have concluded, and the new players will be at Manager O'Connor's disposal. He should take advantage of lining up every young player possible to give him a line on the material he will have for use next season.

The form of some of the Brown veterans in the recent at-home stand has been very pleasing, but the unearthing of a sensational juvenile or two would be far more satisfying than the good efforts of the old-timers. Jack Powell and Barney Pelty have come to life. George Stone has been hitting fairly well lately, while Art Griggs promises to own a healthy batting mark before long.

But it's to be regretted that these veterans started their spurt at this late date. Followers of the Browns are eager to have O'Connor line up as many of his youngsters as possible. A month or six weeks with the team this season will put them in fine stead for the beginning of the busy 1911 campaign.

What a Hard Race May Do to a Winning Crew.

ONE of the most desperately contested races ever rowed at a national regatta was the junior eight-oared event which was won by the Detriot crew at Washington on Friday.

For two-thirds of the distance the Potomacs of Washington held the nose of their boat in the lead, but by an almost superhuman spurt the Wolverine oarsmen forged to the front in the last twenty yards of the race and won.

The effect of the great strain on the members of the victorious crew immediately after the boat crossed the finish line is shown by the accompanying cut.

M. V. II MATCHED TO MEET JOKER AND MISSOURI II

Midget Motor Boat Flyer Will Get Test in Race on River Sunday.

Local motor boat enthusiasts will have a chance next Sunday, Aug. 21, to see the M. V. II try her speed against the Joker and Missouri II in a 10-mile race. The event will be held under the auspices of the Carondelet Motor Boat Club, starting and finishing opposite the foot of Davis street.

The Joker is a 20-footer, owned by Charles Bohn; the Missouri II is a 26-footer, owned oy Hugo Lippert, and the M. V. II measures 20 feet and is owned by Walter Sinning.

All three of these boats will be handled by their owners in the coming race. The M. V. II was built by W. D. Beauvais, who has also built such spaceeaters as the Red Top, Independence II and M. V. I.

The M. V. II broke down in its race at Peoria in the early part of July and, in fact, has been in the shop until a few days ago, when Mr. Sinning took it out to get in readiness for the coming event.

Mr. Sinning says there is a chance that it will break down again in this race on Sunday, but if it does not it will be shipped immediately to Peoria to be in readiness for the regatta to be held there Aug. 30, under the auspices of the Illinois Valley Yacht Club.

The time made in the race next Sunday cannot be counted as official, as the 10-mile course has not been surveyed, but Mr. Sinning says it is close enough so that they can get a pretty fair idea of the speed with which they traveled. The prizes will be $50 for the first and $25 for second.

Two Giant Teams to Play.

The Leland Giants of Chicago, one of the best colored teams in the West, and the St. Louis Giants, clash in the first of a series of three games at Athletic Park Tuesday afternoon. The same teams play Wednesday and Thursday.

CARDINALS' NEW GRAND STAND TO COST $300,000

Owner Robison Orders Plans for Big Two-Story Structure at League Park.

Although President M. Stanley Robison of the Cardinals, said early in the season that he would get a first division team and then consider the erection of a new grand stand at League Park, the Osborn Engineering Co. of Cleveland, has been instructed to prepare the plans for the new structure.

With the Cardinals enjoying their best season from the box office standpoint in years, it was reported that Owner Robison would tear down the old grand stand and have erected a new steel and reinforced concrete structure that would compare favorably with any in the country.

Recently he said that his present stands were big enough to accommodate the crowds that had been attending the games this season, and until his club reached a first division berth, he would not consider the erection of the new stands.

However, as the plans are being prepared it probably means that after all a new grand stand will be erected at League Park before the opening of the 1911 season. It is to be a two-story affair of steel and concrete to be erected at a cost of $300,000.

How to Strengthen Slab Corps Stumps Bresnahan

No Available Pitchers Are in Sight and Newest "Good Thing," Zmich, Fails Miserably Against Doves.

BOSTON, Aug. 16.

THE Cardinals of St. Louis and the Doves clash in their second successive double-header today and should Fred Lake's team repeat the double triumph of yesterday it will pull Manager Bresnahan's boys to within two and one-half games of the bottom.

All season it has been the hope of Boston fans that Lake vacate the bottom position. They care not who swaps places with the Doves, but realize that a long stay of the Cardinals here will see the Mound City outfit hit the bottom.

Manager Bresnahan's slab corps is in a badly shattred condition. His veterans are erratic, while his youngsters are unreliable. He doesn't know which way to turn for a twirler.

THE new arrangement of the seats makes the layout here look something like a ball park. The 50-cent seats are all new and the seating capacity has been increased several thousand.

There will be another double-header here on Tuesday. Five games in three days will be going some. This closes the present home series of the locals.

The "Merry Widow" bunch from the Majestic Theater helped fill the boxes and rooted for the locals to the accompaniment of cow-bell and other ear-torturing apparatus. The players are invited to take in the show Tuesday.

Three on and none out was what faced Ferguson in the first inning and the crowd yelled for him to be taken out. He retired the side without scoring.

Bill Sweeney was again on the job on first, where he has been playing a star engagement. Bud Sharp was on hand after rusticating at his home in West Chester, but looks much the worse for wear. He was a victim of malaria last winter at Stallings' ranch.

"It's the pitcher proposition," said Manager Bresnahan. "It's almost impossible for a club to get together a corps of pitchers who can stand the gaff. You know how long we have been at it."

"Yes," said Lake, "that is where the shoe pinches. A club is indeed in luck if it can land one pitcher a season who will go most of his games without blowing up."

Fred Lake hoped to have the pleasure of battling with the Cardinals in this series for the cellar position. But a five straight win would not have enabled Boston to get out of the last hole.

The locals are trying Oliver Sellers an O. and P. outfielder, in left field in place of Collins, but the newcomer doesn't promise a bit better than the man he is replacing and looks a way off from big league timber.

Cincinnati would very much like to get Bill Sweeney and would give a good round sum. But Lake cannot see his way clear to let Bill go, unless a desirable exchange can be effected.

The Connie Mack idea of four balls and four strikes does not find favor here. It is thought pitchers are wild enough now without imposing a further handicap which would make the games more tedious and uninteresting. Again it would make the strong club stronger and the weaker club weaker.

Boston is booked to play in Brooklyn Oct. 10 and 17 and will undoubtedly play a team entirely of recruits in those games.

Harmon pitched great ball up to the seventh. He held the locals down in fine shape up to that inning playing all departments well.

WRAY'S COLUMN

IT is hard to educate the fan up to the right attitude toward baseball. Poor benighted one, he really thinks the game is designed for HIS pleasure—a relaxation wherein he may shoot off a few inanities, relieve his lungs and go home with a laugh, no matter who wins. But after all we know the game is really designed for the greater glory of the "ump;" to enable him to exhibit his massive mind, his Daniel-like judgment and to collect that fat salary, with a Jovian consciousness of absolute superiority.

It is all wrong to sit up in the stand and tell the "ump" that he has missed his calling; that his proper function is preferably biting the seeds out of cayenne peppers or some such anti-baseball occupation. Just because the umpire slips once in a while—even old Jove missed out on a couple of decisions when he tried to shove the Olympus team across in the Pan-Hellenic league days—is no occasion for Ajax in the grand stand to become acid about it and hurl defiances.

Why not rather look upon it in a kindlier light—the sort of "turn the other cheek" attitude?

"Pity the poor umpire," we might say to ourselves. "Or "forgive him for he knows not what he does."

Which, the chances are, is true.

But it's bad form to say it aloud. You might hurt his feelings.

Thus, when Umpire P— makes his daily slip, don't, please don't rise and inform him that the lobster dredges missed a great opportunity when they scraped by him. He might stop the game for fully 15 minutes, if you do, and thus cause you a sore throat.

A Would-Be Trust-Buster.

HARRY LORD seems on the way to join the grand army of great but foolish baseball players. At least his failure to report to Chicago following his trade to that club by the Boston aggregation is just bordering on the dippy.

Probably Lord is a fine baseball player; but when he endeavors to hike a contract in mid-season he is committing financial suicide, if he happens to be opposing any manager with open eyes.

Bucking the National Commission is almost as futile a task as getting some umpires to look pleasant. The commission is a hard-headed institution with a great many of the attributes which other trusts are noted for. One of these is a rooted conviction against the yielding under pressure to demands for increased pay.

The sight of one of the pyramids blocking your straight path to a destination might incense you exceedingly. But it would be no reason for wasting time trying to shove it out of the way.

Get around what you can't get over.

Comiskey is the finest man in the game to work for and Lord would not even have to ask an increase if he stepped in and worked a bit willingly. But it's the blacklist and "rest in peace," if you make the old Roman's dander rise.

Which Pat Donovan is interested to know where all the catchers are going to come from. Why, Pat, if you're interested at all in wireless you'll know that they're likely to be found at the receiving stations.

Zmich—but there, the box score is unpleasant enough.

THERE is no "chance" in baseball.—it's all a carefully concerted "scheme of play," "inside ball," scheming, strategy and probably some spoils—with the accent on the odor of the spoil. At least, so baseball scientists tell us. But once in a while, you know, the treasons and stratagems got tangled up with a little base hitting, and then they go astray. Else how can you account for Brooklyn getting 11 hits against Chicago, in the first game, with nary a run; and the same number of hits in the second engagement, netting 9 runs. If a club could gauge even approximately the strength of its attack no such discrepancy could be possible.

Who knows? Perhaps, after all, baseball is mostly a matter of hitting, pitching, luck and here and there a trick flung in.

Q. E. D.—No watches were held on Rigler at New York Monday. Unofficial timing gave him a shade better than Walker's record for the hundred, when the pop-bottle incident arose during the Giants' game.

PHILADELPHIA American is all in but the shouting, unless it follows an experience it encountered one tremendous season when, after leading the race with a percentage of something like .630, it suddenly went to pieces and fell away to nothing. The team finished down the ladder, and was not close to the hunt.

There seems no chance for this to happen with the present virile team. In fact, it can stop its engine now and soar for the rest of the race and still finish in front. If .650 wins the American League race, which is a falling away from the team's present mark, it will have only 28 more games to win and can afford to lose 21. On the other hand the nearest rival of the Athletics, Boston, must win 38 games of 46 remaining to be played—a percentage well up in the .800 division. That Boston will do this, on its showing here, is not to be considered. Donovan's bolt is spent, and the finish is now between the Tigers and Boston for second place.

Flashes From the Diamond

Stanley Robison of the Cardinals thinks that the American League has better umpires than the National. Stanley watched a game in Washington a few days ago and made that remark. The Cardinals never did like the National League umpires at any time.

Pat Moran seems to have lost his throw to second base. During the recent series between the Phillies and Cubs Pat let the Cubs run bases on him at will.

The Speed Boys will train on the Pacific Coast next spring. The final arrangements were completed while the Red Sox were in the city last week. President Tip O'Neill of the Western League, who has acted as the advance guard of the White Sox every year they have been on the Coast, will do the same for the Boston club.

Arellanes, Hall, Hooper, Lewis and Moskiman of the Boston team are all natives of California and are delighted to think that they can train in their beautiful climate.

President Kinsella of the Springfield (Ill.) club, who sold Meloan to the Sox says that he would like to have Meloan back on his team again now that he has made good, but he laughed when he said it. "I have two more outfielders that the Sox should have," said Kinsella.

Infielder Simmons of the Tigers is on the market. He filled in at third while Moriarty was on the hospital list.

President Murphy of the Cubs is after two players from Michigan. He wants Third Baseman Wuffli and Pitcher Robinson of the Saginaw South Michigan League.

Pitcher Walsh's arm has blown up. It is puffed up and swollen from the elbow to the wrist, and there is nothing but rest will do it any good.

Charley Williams of the Cubs has proposed a good change in the schedule of the big leagues. He proposes to make the teams travel an extra trip from the East to the West, and from the West to the East, and play only three games to a series, which will give the Eastern teams a chance to play more Sundays in the West, with the Western clubs. The extra traveling expense will more than be made up by the added income from Sunday games.

Oldring, Baker, and Thomas each made a home run off Eddie Summers, scoring five runs off the "knuckle ball" artist before he could switch to some other kind of a delivery.

Billy Locke, secretary of the Pirates, says that the champions will win out. He has said that all along and his prediction looks a lot better right now than it did when he first made the remark.

Bill Bernhard, old-time Cleveland pitcher and present manager of the Nashville team of the Southern League, who has been mentioned for the management of the Naps to succeed McGuire next season, refused to confirm or deny the report the other day. He said that he had been offered his choice of an American League or an American Association team for next year.

Ten million dollars is the estimated cost of keeping up big league baseball this year, and half of that is the money that is to go to the players. No less a person than Garry Herrmann predicts that the game will return 8 per cent on the investment.

If Lord does not join the White Sox it will be a good chance for the Boston club to laugh at the Chicago club. There is little danger that Lord is going to crab his baseball career by quitting this early, however.

The Naps will be so new next year that few fans will know them if Charley Summers' scouts keep on gathering in the youngsters. Lajoie, Turner, Easterly, Joss, Birmingham, Faulkenberg and Young will be about all of the old fellows left, if reports are true.

President Tom Lynch has signed Wilson Mathews as an umpire for the National League. The new man will report Sept. 7 and comes from the Texas League, where they have good schooling. Wilson once managed Savannah.

Hartzell, Newnam and Griggs Pound Out Victory for Lake Over Red Sox

JOE LAKE pitched a nice game against the Red Sox of Boston, Monday, and backed up with nice hitting by Roy Hartzell, Pat Newnam and Art Griggs, the Browns evened up the series with the Hub aggregation up to date. The score was 2 to 1.

Eddie Cicotte, of "knuckle ball" fame, opposed Lake for seven innings and allowed only six hits, against eight hammered off the St. Louis spitter. Lake, though, managed to scatter the safe drives made off him. Ed Karger, who dropped the opening show to the Browns, pitched the eighth inning after Cicotte retired to enable Jake Stahl to bat for him.

Lake had one bad inning, and, thanks to a sleepy bit of base running by Billy Purtell, late of the White Sox, coupled with some poor coaching by the Boston players, the Browns were not forced to go into extra innings to decide the show.

In the eighth, after Stahl, swinging for Cicotte, rolled to Wallace, Gardner hit to the flag pole for a triple. Purtell followed with a smash to the same spot, but only got a double. He would have been held at the middle pillow, but Hoffman, who fielded the ball, made a peculiar throw and the ball rolled to the fence.

Purtell, late to learn Dan's mistake, chased for third. He made that station in safety but alertness would have enabled him to score on Hoffman's error. Speaker, who hasn't maintained his reputation as a slugger here, could only pop to Truesdale, while Lake struck out Bradley.

The Browns got busy in the first inning in the scoring line. With Stone a goner on a slap to Lewis, Hartzell poled between Speaker and Lewis for three bases. Newnam followed with a pretty drive over second for a sack and Roy tallied the first run. They got Pat stealing, while Griggs lined to Lewis.

The Browns raised their total to two in the fourth. With Hartzell away after striking out, Newnam got his second hit, a single to left. Griggs hammered the ball to the right field corner for a triple and Pat made the circuit. Hoffman drew a pass, while Wallace sent out a lift to Hooper, whose perfect throw to Carrigan doubled Art at the plate, trying to score after the catch.

The Browns made only one hit after that, a single by Hartzell in the sixth after two were gone. Roy swiped second, but Newnam struck out, and Griggs' hot bounder went straight to Cicotte.

The only other inning in which Lake was in danger was the seventh. He started this round by passing Bradley. He died coupled with Wagner on the latter's poke to Wallace, Truesdale and Newnam assisting in the double killing. Lewis followed with a single to left, and went to third on Hooper's hit to right. They perished on the sacks when Wallace whipped out Carrigan.

Speaking of Wallace, the Scot was in the game up to his neck in a fielding way. He tossed out eleven red-hosed athletes, and was credited with three put outs. In the final inning he whipped out Wagner, Lewis and Hooper, the three batters to face Lake. The stops and throws off the grounders from the bats of Wagner and Lewis were beauties.

"Bull" Perine again ran the game alone without any demonstration from the small washday crowd. Only once, when he called Gardner out at second on Purtell's roller, was the peeved one compelled to render a close decision. He gave the Browns the benefit of the doubt.

In the opening inning Gardner was passed, but forced by Purtell. Speaker hit a single to right on which Bill went to third. They attempted a double pilfer, but the former White Sox was pinched at the plate on Truesdale's return to Killefer.

Purtell Had Only One Objection to Joining Red Sox

"Billy" Purtell, the former White Sox third baseman, who with Pitcher Frank Smith was turned over to the Red Sox of Boston in exchange for Infielder Harry Lord and Ambrose McConnell, had only one objection to the trade. That was the fact that he had to his record of playing every day this season blemished.

Last Thursday night, when the trade was arranged, Purtell called on Manager Patsy Donovan at his hotel in Chicago.

"I'm glad to become a Red Sox," said Purtell to Manager Donovan. "and I must be in that lineup tomorrow."

"Why?" asked Patsy.

"Because I have played ever game this season and I had made up my mind that I wasn't going to miss a day."

As Managers Donovan and Duffy had agreed that they would not play the traded players in the same series, Purtell had to lay off last Friday, and instead made his debut with the Red Sox against the Browns Saturday.

Ketchel Able to Umpire.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Although Stanley Ketchel will not be able to fight next Tuesday he announced last night that he feels sufficiently strenuous to umpire a baseball game. He will call the balls and strikes in the game between the Patersons and the New York Colored Giants at Olympic Field, 138th street and Fifth avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

DRUMMOND JONES WILL PLAY AT NEWPORT TODAY

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16.—Ten matches in the first round of singles in the National Lawn Tennis Championship now going on here were postponed from yesterday until today on account of the wet condition of the courts. If possible, these matches, together with the second round of singles and the first round of doubles, will be played today.

D. Jones, the St. Louis star, did not play yesterday, but will compete today.

Roland Hoerr, the other St. Louis entry, won his match in the first round from N. M. Vose, 6—3, 6—3, 6—2.

YOST'S MEN GET EARLY START IN FOOTBALL WORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The college football warrior is beginning to look happy. With the opening of the training season at the big universities only a month away, the gridiron candidates have begun already to do light work preparatory to the strenuous days which are soon to come under the watchful and critical eyes of a squad of coaches. Many players and prospective players are training now at summer resorts.

Preliminary training at the colleges will begin about the middle of September. The coaches will make their call for candidates at that time. Coach Percy Haughton of Harvard has issued his first call for Sept. 18. By that time the other big colleges will have their men out for first practice.

The University of Michigan seems to have beaten all its rivals this year for early season work. The Wolverines are in training camp now at a Michigan lake. They will remain there until late in September. Possibly their stay may be lengthened until the first week in October, when the coaches will bring them back to Ann Arbor ready for the season's campaign.

Coaches vary as to the merits of the new rules. Some believe them to be a distinct improvement over the old game. Others hold a contrary opinion. Haughton of Harvard is one of the supporters of the new rules. He is encouraged over the prospects of the game as it will be played this fall.

Pennsylvania, Cornell and Syracuse will play early opening games this year. The schedules of the three colleges call for contests on September 24.

MEN WHO WOULD MEET JOHNSON FIGHT TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The most interesting bout staged in New York this season will take place tonight when Bill Lang of Australia will meet Al Kaufman, the California heavyweight in a bout of 10 rounds.

Each of the men have met the present champion, Jack Johnson, in the arena, Kaufman going 10 rounds with Johnson in San Francisco, while the negro stopped Lang in 10 rounds in Australia.

Lang has also met the ex-champion, Tommy Burns, the latter earning the decision after 20 rounds of hard fighting. Lang obtained a knock out over the veteran of the ring, Bob Fitzsimmons, and defeated "Boshter" Bill Squires for the Australian championship.

S. S. S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood. This uratic impurity gets into the circulation by absorption, usually because of constipation, weak kidneys, and other systemic irregularities. Then the blood becomes weak and sour and irritating urate particles are formed in this vital fluid. When in this impure condition the blood can not furnish the necessary amount of nourishment to the different muscles tendons, nerves and ligaments of the body. Instead it constantly sweeps them in the briny acrid matter, and the gritty, urate particles collect in the joints, which causes the pains, aches and soreness of Rheumatism. Liniments, plasters, etc. may relieve the acute pain of an attack of Rheumatism, but such treatment does not reach the blood and therefore can have no permanent good effect. There is but one way to cure Rheumatism and that is to purify the blood of the acid poison. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and attacks the disease at its head. It removes the cause for the reason that it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It filters out every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid heated circulation, adds richness and nourishment to the blood and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. does not patch up, it cures permanently. S. S. S. is especially valuable as a remedy for Rheumatism because it does not contain a particle of harmful mineral in any form. Book on Rheumatism sent free to all who write.

PALMA WEDS A NEW YORK GIRL IN HURRY

Son of Cuban Ex-President Had Set Ceremony for August 15, but Changes Date.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Suddenly advancing the date of the ceremony, which had been set for Aug. 15, Tomas Estrada Palma, a son of the late President of Cuba, and Miss Helen Douglas Browne, a daughter of Douglas Lester Burman-Browne of 210 West 107th street, slipped quietly into Grace Church, across the street from Mr. Palma's residence, the St. Denis Hotel, accompanied only by two friends, and were married at noon. The Rev. Mr. Melville Bailey performed the ceremony.

The couple were accompanied to the church by Victor Barranco, attache to the Cuban Consul-General; Maj. Lores, purchasing agent of Cuba and friend of Mr. Palma, and the bride's mother. Following the ceremony they went at once to the Hotel Buckingham for a few days before leaving for Cuba.

Mr. Palma is a wealthy ranch owner and controls large plantations in Cuba. It is probable that he will make his home there for at least a part of each year. He was born in Central Valley, N. Y., where his father at one time taught school. This was several years before the elder Palma became the executive head of the island republic.

Mrs. Palma, who is 21 years old, was born in Mexico, but has been educated in this country.

The wedding license was procured on July 29. At that time Mr. Palma gave his residence at 40 West Eighty-third street. He said then: "We would prefer to have as little said as possible about our future, because we have not yet made up our minds what we shall do when we are married."

BAN ON JAIL GAMBLING; RIOT

Prisoners Found Well Armed When Guards Attack Them.

MADRID, Aug. 16.—A riot occurred in the Central Prison here in consequence of an order by the Governor of the gaol prohibiting gambling among the prisoners.

Senor Alvaro Navarro, who was recently appointed Governor, found a number of abuses in the institution, and decided to restore prison discipline by depriving the inmates of arms and punishing those who gambled for money.

A quarrel arose among several prisoners in consequence of one of them losing $80 at cards. When the warders tried to break up the game, the prisoners destroyed a quantity of furniture and made a bonfire of the wreckage in the gaol yard.

Troops were called and one prisoner was shot. Many others were sent to punishment cells. Many daggers and pistols were found among the prisoners.

PRESSMEN'S HOME IN TENNESSEE TO COST $1,000,000

Property of Union in Picturesque Valley, "The Scotland of the South."

CLIMATE IS HEALTHY

Headquarters to Be Removed From Cincinnati to 519-Acre Timbered Tract.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 16.—The recent decision of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America, at a near date to remove headquarters from Cincinnati to Rogersville, Tenn., and to begin work upon the million-dollar home to be erected on the property recently purchased, and also to hold the next annual convention in 1911 on the site of the proposed home, has turned the eyes of readers of printed matter upon the properties that will be the mecca of disabled and superannuated pressmen and assistants of North America. High up in the Cumberland Mountains, amid the serried pine and redolent balsam, is this beautiful site for the proposed home.

This property, which has for 50 years been known as the Hale Springs Health Resort, was purchased by George L. Berry, president of the international union, at a receiver's sale at Rogersville, September, 1909, the price paid being $8500. The sale of the property was recently confirmed by Chancellor Hugh G. Kyle.

Home Long Contemplated.

The home movement had been contemplated for some time, or since the union had become strong enough to be regarded as a potent factor in the realm of organized labor. At the annual meeting held at Omaha, Neb., the movement took tangible shape, with the result that an assessment was made therefor. The founding of such a home was with the pressmen an Utopian dream, just as it had been with the International Typographical Union until the Childs-Drexel Home was located at Colorado Springs, Colo., and when President Berry and a committee comprising the official board of the union, was named to find and purchase a suitable location, the mind of the president naturally turned to his boyhood home in Tennessee, where he was familiar with the health-giving resorts of East Tennessee, the salubrious climate of the great East Tennessee valley and the productiveness of the great Appalachian region.

He learned that the famous Hale Springs resort was to be sold, and a year ago he went to Knoxville with the committee and thence to Rogersville and the properties were examined in detail, and Mr. Berry was authorized to purchase the property, if possible, at a reasonable figure. Round about Rogersville are men who possess the acumen of the sharpest trader, and when the property was put on the block several competitive bidders were on hand. But the citizens of Rogersville, realizing the great benefits to be derived from the location of the home near their town, interposed and the bidders withdrew, with the result that it was bid in at the price stated.

Membership of 22,000.

The union, which was organized in 1889, has a membership of 22,000 three-fourths of whom live east of the Mississippi River, so the question of transportation had something to do with the decision in favor of the Hale Springs property. Many states, including Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, California, Virginia and Florida, offered splendid bonuses for the home, but President Berry, having in mind the beauty and healthfulness of his own East Tennessee mountains, succeeded in locating the institution where he desired. He is very enthusiastic as to the plans for the home, the establishment of which will be the feature of his administration as president.

The institution will be the largest of the kind in the world, and will mean no little, not only to East Tennessee, but to the Middle South. It is stated that upwards of $1,000,000 will be spent on the place, and this home will truly be to Tennessee what the Childs-Drexel home, that of the International Typographical Union, is to Colorado.

Hale Springs is situated between Stone Mountain on the south and Pine Mountain on the north, in one of the most picturesque valleys in the South. "The Scotland of the South," it has been called. By graded road the place is 11 miles from the historic old town of Rogersville, is only six miles from Rogersville by the bridle path across the mountains, and lies almost midway between Morristown and Bristol.

The property consists of 519 acres of land, three-fourths of which is well timbered in oak, pine, cedar, hickory and poplar. The remainder of the land, which is in a good state of cultivation, will be tilled in the most scientific manner, and the output would almost make the institution self-sustaining.

HIS FIRST SHAVE SINCE 1870

Missouri Man Has His Beard Cut for Change.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 16.—W. T. Baird, one of Kirksville's oldest citizens, and who organized the first national bank in Adair County, has cut off his beard. Mr. Baird says this is the first time he has cut his beard since 1870.

Mr. Baird says that many interesting things have happened in Kirksville during the forty years that he did not shave. Kirksville forty years ago was a village of 500 people. The population of Adair County was perhaps little more than 1000. There were no other towns in the county save a few crossroads stores and postoffices. A large part of the country was uncultivated and many of the primeval forests were standing.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Daily Record of Markets and Finance

STOCKS CLOSE AT THE TOP; STEEL STRONG

Reading and Union Pacific Leaders in Bull Movement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. 3 p. m.

The market closed around the highest points of the day, Reading advancing 2¼ points, Amalgamated 2⅛, Steel 2, Smelting 2⅝, and Union Pacific 2⅛. National Biscuit showed a net gain of 3 points from the opening.

At noon the market was around the highest levels of the day, advances in the more prominent stocks ranging from 1 to 1¾ points.

Reading was the active leader in the upward movement, showing an advance of 1⅝ from its opening.

St. Paul advanced 1½ points, Atchison 1⅛, N. Y. Central 1¼. Northern Pacific and Great Northern ¾ each, Southern Pacific and B. R. T. ⅞, Mo. Pacific ¼ and Union Pacific 1⅛.

Steel common, the strong feature in the industrials, advanced 1½ points, Smelting and Am. Car 1¼ points each, Amalgamated 1⅛ and Harvester 1½. Laclede Gas failed to respond in the upward move and at noon was selling ½ under the opening.

"Soo" Line advanced ¼, Union Pacific opened unchanged from Monday's closing, and so did Chesapeake & Ohio.

Reading advanced ⅛, Erie ¼, Rock Island ¼, while Northern Pacific sold off ⅝ and Canadian Pacific ⅞.

In the industrial division of the market Amalgamated was the leader on opening dealings, advancing ½, Smelting, Con. Gas, Central Leather and Laclede Gas were unchanged and Steel lost ⅛.

There was no news bearing on the market early today, though reports from the crop section were favorable. Prices showed improvement at the end of the first half-hour's trading.

DETAILED REPORT OF THE DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Wall street)—Opening prices in the stock market today were slightly irregular but the changes either way were unimportant aside from the advance of a point in Anaconda and Colorado and Southern and a loss of as much in Canadian Pacific. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific and St. Paul were among the representative stocks which were slightly lower.

Confident buying of several specialties had a tonic effect on the whole list and there was a brisk rally in the Western railroad stocks. After the list generally had sold a large fraction above yesterday's final prices the demand lessened and there was a later reaction of about a half in the standard stocks. American Beet Sugar lost 1 from its opening price on profit-taking sales, but the preferred rose 2¾. Colorado Fuel and Central Leather rose 1⅜ and Reading and American Ice 1. Missouri Pacific lost 1, but afterwards made up its loss.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Bull operators encountered no opposition in bidding up prices and on light dealings the list mounted again to about the high level of the first hour or above. An inquiry for United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting contributed to the market's strength. There was little interest manifested in the railroad list outside of Reading and Union Pacific. International Harvester rose 1¼ and Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel, National Biscuit, American Linseed preferred and American Telephone and Telegraph 1. Louisville & Nashville lost 1. Bonds were irregular.

When buying orders for the active railroad stocks were distributed the professionals took the long side of the market and began to bid for stocks. Trading became broader and more active, with the demand keen for some of the leading stocks. Reading and National Biscuit rose 2 points, Illinois Central 1¾, Delaware & Hudson and Amalgamated Copper 1⅝, American Smelting and American Car 1½, Union Pacific 1⅜, St. Paul and General Electric 1¼ and Southern Pacific, New York Central, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and Texas & Pacific 1 point.

A further outburst of strength placed practically every stock of consequence a point or more above where it left off yesterday. The metal group made a particularly good showing, and there was also heavy and continued buying of Reading, Union Pacific and other railroad stocks. Reading got up 2¼ Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting, 2¼; Union Pacific and United States Steel, 2; Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio and Bethlehem Steel, 1¾; the preferred 2¾; Great Northern preferred, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Republic Steel and Utah Copper, 1.

"POOR WRETCH'S" CHURCH IS INCORPORATED BY THE COURT

The Rev. William A. Webster's Congregation Can Now Hold Property.

The Strodtman Heights Christian Church, which was recently threatened with schism because a woman member spoke of the pastor, the Rev. William A. Webster, as "a poor wretch," obtained a pro forma decree of incorporation in Judge Grimm's court Tuesday.

The incorporators are Pastor Webster, Charles B. Layton, O. G. Nicholas, Oscar Lindsay and Ernest B. Hamm. By virtue of the decree the church will be entitled to hold property and exercise other corporate rights.

The recent trouble simmered down after the woman had explained that she did not intend to reflect on the pastor's character by the use of the word "wretch," but meant that he was to be pitied.

OIL FEES $92,000 FOR STATE

Money Formerly Went Into Private Hands Annually.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16.—From the inspection of coal oil and gasoline between Aug. 16, 1909, and Aug. 13 of this year the State received in fees a total of $92,744.16. Of this amount $17,000 was paid out in salaries and for maintenance of the department.

Rush Lake is inspector. Under the old law the State got no revenue at all from oil inspection.

Standard Oil Dividends $6,000,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Directors of the Standard Oil have declared the regular 6 per cent dividend for the quarter which calls for a distribution to stockholders of $6,000,000.

EAST SIDE COUNCIL PLANS ANNUAL OUT-OF-TOWN JUNKET

Trip This Year Will Be to St. Paul Convention.

Preliminary preparations for the annual junket of East St. Louis aldermen and city officials were made at the meeting of the City Council, Monday afternoon. The aldermen will leave for St. Paul Saturday night to attend the convention of the League of American Municipalities.

If the lawmakers and officials follow their custom of former years, they will reimburse themselves their railroad fare and expenses out of the city treasury after they return. Heretofore these allowances have been from $100 to $150 per man, aggregating about $1500 expenses.

The convention will last four days. The aldermen will be gone about ten days. Heretofore East St. Louis has always had the banner attendance among the cities represented at these conventions. Other cities send their mayor and one or two other officials, but East St. Louis persistently sends a large delegation. Mayor Cook is a close attendant at the convention sessions, and makes the official report of the proceedings on his return. The others in the party usually form expert opinions on joy rides and places of interest in the city in which the convention is held.

COUPLE'S TRUE NAMES MADE KNOWN THROUGH DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Belle Greenland Files Suit —Were Known as "Lund."

By filing a suit in the East St. Louis City Court for a divorce from her husband, Lawrence Greenlund, former manager of the Avenue Theater, Mrs. Belle Greenlund revealed the true names of the couple. Mrs. Greenlund is director of the orchestra at the Majestic Theater and had been known to her East Side friends as Mrs. Belle Lund. Her husband, during the several years he was in East St. Louis, was known as Larry E. Lund. He is now manager of two theaters in Minneapolis.

The Lunds were married Dec. 21, 1898, at Helena, Mont., and separated in East St. Louis in 1908. Mrs. Greenlund alleges cruelty on the part of her husband.

EAST ST. LOUIS NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gillen of the Hotel Illmo, who are touring the East in an automobile, in a letter to East St. Louis friends announced that they arrived in Boston Aug. 10 after driving their auto from Albany, 227 miles, in 8½ hours without a mishap or accident. They left Boston Monday for a trip through Maine and Vermont. They will return by way of New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

The body of Emmett H. Williams, 44 years old, who died of pneumonia Monday at his home, 735 North 22d street, was taken to Houstonia, Mo., for burial. His widow and seven children survive.

Assistant Marshal Robert Stewart of National City was held to the grand jury under $1500 bond by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of Joseph Stapleton of Chicago. Stapleton was shot and killed by Stewart last week in the railroad yards near the Armour packing plant when he attempted to escape after taking a sack of grain from a car in the yards.

Dr. E. H. Little and his wife, who have been touring Europe 18 months, are on their way home. They will arrive in East St. Louis about Sept. 15. They left Berlin Aug. 4 and in a letter to friends praised the German city for its cleanliness.

The City Council passed an ordinance Monday requiring billboards to be not more than 10 feet high and placed at least four feet above the ground. The ordinance prohibits billboards of more than 50 feet in length and does not allow "double-deckers."

Mrs. Mary Reiser of 312 North Eighth street has returned from a tour of European cities.

Parliamentary rules were twisted beyond recognition, and a motion to adjourn ended a tumultuous meeting of East St. Louis lawyers, and broke the "slate" prepared for adoption by the lawyers for candidates for judge and clerk of the East Side City Court. Fifty lawyers attended the meeting to discuss the recommendation of candidates Monday afternoon, the total result being that no candidate was nominated and none indorsed.

Judge D. E. Keefe was chosen chairman of the meeting, and E. W. Eggman acted as secretary. Attorney J. J. Rafter made a plea to the lawyers not to mortgage their right to vote as they please, and made a motion that no candidate be nominated. After several votes on different motions, this plan prevailed.

After the meeting, the independent candidacy of R. V. Gustin for judge and John F. (Sambo) May for clerk, were announced. This is the "slate" which was intended to be indorsed at the meeting, and was defeated by the hurried motion to adjourn.

CONFLICTING WEATHER MAKES COTTON MARKET IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 5 points on August, but generally 1@5 points lower on easier late cables from Liverpool, officials of rain at Houston and rumors that the drouth in the central part of Texas had been broken.

There was considerable liquidation, and while August held steady, the rest of the list soon sold off to a net loss of 10@15 points.

Early rain news from Texas was more or less conflicting, and sentiment was consequently much unsettled, although spot houses bought at the decline.

The Western belt forecast, calling for nothing more than showers in the north part of Texas rather than indicating precipitation for the drouthy sections of that State, helped to rally the market after the early decline, and prices recovered 5 or 6 points of the loss.

No general demand developed, however, and trading became quiet toward midday, pending the official detailed weather report of the weekly bureau. The low barometer shown over North Texas yesterday is reported to have moved northward over Kansas.

Spot quiet; middling uplands, 15.50c; middling gulf, 15.75c.

Estimated receipts at the ports today, 9000 bales, against 1178 bales last week and 2400 bales last year. For the week, 25,000 bales, against 11,301 bales last week and 14,398 bales last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans, 282 bales, against 452 bales last year.

Following the detailed weather report for Texas, showing comparatively little precipitation in the drouthy section, and the weekly Weather Bureau report, which read bullishly as to the Southwest, the market became firmer on covering by recent sellers and bull support. Aug. sold up to a net advance of 15 points, and later months showed gains of from 2 to 3 points during the early afternoon.

Cotton, spot closed quiet, 15 points higher; middling uplands, 15.70c; middling gulf, 15.95c; sales, 1239 bales.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 16.—Closing: Cotton, spot quiet; prices 3 points higher; American middling, fair, 8.83c; good middling, 8.45c; middling, 8.31c; low middling, 8.21c; good ordinary, 7.95c; ordinary, 7.70c. The sales of the day were 4000 bales, of which 1000 bales were for speculation and export, and included 3700 bales American. Receipts, 8000 bales, including 7100 bales American.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady. Aug., 7.94½c; Aug.-Sept., 7.64½c; Sept.-Oct., 7.27½c; Oct.-Nov., 7.12c; Nov.-Dec., 7.02½c; Dec.-Jan., 7.00c; Jan.-Feb., 6.99½c; Feb.-March, 6.99½c; March-April, 6.99½c; April-May, 6.99c; May-June, 6.99c.

REAL ESTATE AGENTS' REPORTS OF THEIR SALES

Lots Bought for New Buildings.

The Korte-Rust Realty Co. reports the sale of three lots fronting 90 feet on the west side of Louisiana avenue, between Neosho and Itaska streets, by a depth of 85 feet. Sold for account of William and Wilhelmina Ungerer to Theodore Degenhardt Building Co. Also a strip of 90x55 adjoining the above in the rear. Sold for account of the Berry Realty Co. to Theodore Degenhardt Building and Contracting Co., which will erect three brick cottages on the same, each containing five rooms, reception hall, tile bath, furnace, etc.

Fair Avenue Lot Sold.

The North St. Louis Savings Trust Co. reports the sale of two lots on the north side of Fair avenue between Florissant and Rosalie avenues, having an aggregate frontage of 60 feet by a depth of 142.6, for the account of one of its clients. John A. Leschen, to Otto Bauer, who will improve at an early date with a flat. Consideration, $2280. The company advises that it has quite a number of clients seeking vacant and improved property adjoining O'Fallon Park.

Will Erect a Single Flat.

Franciscus & Kunz closed the sale of a lot fronting 30 feet on the north side of Farlin avenue, between Red Bud and Fair avenues. It is in the new addition which has recently been opened. Sold for the Lindell Fairgrounds Realty and Investment Co. to C. E. Lund, who will improve at once with a modern single flat.

Will Erect Flat Building.

John M. Rielley reports the sale of a lot fronting 32 feet on the north line of Juniata street, between Gustine avenue and Russell place, by a depth of 101 feet to an alley. The lot was purchased by Samuel Boyardski, who will improve at once with a modern two-story flat building.

Oregon Avenue Flat Sold.

George A. Duff reports the sale of the modern four and five room flat located at 2222 Oregon avenue, having a lot 25 feet front by a depth of 125 feet to an alley. The property was sold for H. M. Brockstedt to a client for investment.

Garfield Cottage Sold.

The Bush & Burns Realty Co. reports the sale of a handsome five-room cottage at 5321 Garfield avenue from a client to James Martin for a home. This is the first sale of ten houses built by this firm in the 5300 block on Garfield.

Sells Lot for New Apartment.

The Joseph F. Dickmann Real Estate Co. sold for Carl S. Holberg and wife a lot having a front of 50 feet on the south side of Arsenal street between Spring and Gustine avenues, directly opposite the middle entrance to Tower Grove Park. Henry Scheer, who purchased the lot upon his return from California, will erect a double apartment building, all modern, which will cost about $15,000. The consideration was $2625, or $53 per front foot.

Two Flats Bring $12,000.

Loewenstein Bros. closed two deals yesterday aggregating $12,000, as follows: Sold to Patrick Flynn the two-story rock-front and tiled mansard five and six room single flat at 1257-57A Aubert avenue, equipped with tile bath, Dutch dining rooms, combination fixtures, furnaces, etc., fronting 27 feet 6 inches on the west side of Aubert avenue, corner of paved alley, for investment, for $7000.

Also closed sale of 4320 Fairfax avenue, consisting of a two-story and basement eight-room brick house, arranged as two four-room flats with separate baths, fixtures, etc.; lot 25x155 to brick alley, to Milton Freund, for $4500, who purchased for investment.

HOGS—Again the supply of hogs was only moderate and as there was a strong demand for the better class of pigs and lights the market opened a good dime higher than it was on Monday on them. However, all other hogs were no better than steady and toward the close of the market the average grade of hogs were selling a shade lower than they did yesterday. The top of the market was $9.40 for pigs, while the bulk of the hogs of all weights sold from $8.45@8.95. Packers were strongly opposed to any advance and did not pay any more than steady prices. Good pigs and lights sold from $9.10@9.40, medium weights brought 8.85@9.10, and good heavy hogs sold from $8.40@8.65, with the rough sows and stags that were thrown out going at $7.50@8 as a rule.

HORSES AND MULES—The horse market was off on all kinds of big stuff during the day. Buyers were not at all plentiful, and this caused a decline in prices. Fresh receipts for the day approximated 125 head of a mixed variety. The mule trade with the dealers was slow and dull throughout the day. Trade out of first hands showed some improvement. Fresh receipts for the day approximated 50 head, which was not equal to the demand.

BEAR TRADERS STILL CONTROL GRAIN MARKET

Wheat Futures Lose Over a Cent on General Selling.

Professionals depressed wheat values further during today's trading, sentiment being influenced by the weakness of foreign markets and a distinctly bearish domestic statistical position. The continued liquidation in the September option in Chicago which was overbought early in the season, while the talk of congestion in July lasted, was also a depressing influence.

In the late trading a resumption of the export demands reported Monday started a general covering movement and the close was strong at the recovery.

The weather over the corn belt precipitated some liquidation in the interested features, rain being reported in many sections where needed. The advices of experts that the crop is going back in important territory and showing a deficiency of ears from lack of early moisture, was not taken seriously.

The pit element is not inclined to follow the market very far either way, but opinion in inclined to be less bullish on the continued heavy movement of new wheat to market. There is a congestion of supplies at all primary points, and in Chicago and the Northwest the overrun of cars is noticeable.

So far the movement shows no pronounced signs of subsiding, although receivers have been predicting lessened receipts for over two weeks. The movement is bound to ultimately have its effect on prices, unless a falling off occurs, as supplies are fast becoming so burdensome, that it is difficult to maintain cash prices, at a favorable equivalent with the unusually high futures.

Again the continued movement from the farms indicates that the country banker is still putting his financial house in order, by a less liberal extension of credit and adjustment of past land loans.

Weakness in Winnipeg caused early selling at a decline of ⅜@½d in Liverpool, although offerings were fairly well taken on continental buying and further reports of heavy French import requirements. The late market was irregular.

Liverpool spot wheat closed 1d lower to ½d higher, futures ⅛d lower. Paris market closed. Antwerp futures closed 1¼c lower, Berlin 1½c lower and Budapest 1c higher.

The European visible supply of wheat increased 3,624,000 bu last week, against a decrease last year of 400,000 bu. The total visible is now 66,848,000 bu, against 45,500,000 bu last year.

MONEY MARKETS

Local shipments of funds to the crop-growing sections have not been very heavy.

There is a little demand, money being put out at 5 and 5½ per cent, but mostly on the latter basis. Commercial paper is fairly active at the present writing, but even the best names cannot be played at better than 5½ per cent, which, with brokers' commission, means a virtual 6 per cent flat basis on all credits.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Call money opened at 1½ per cent and later was quoted at 1¾ per cent. Time money market is dull, unchanged, from Monday's rates. Quotations are 2¾ to 3 per cent for 60 days, 3¼ to 3½ for 90 days, 4 to 4¼ per cent for four months, and 4¾ for five and six months. Commercial paper is quoted 5¼ to 6 per cent for best names.

DEATHS.

KRAEMER—Entered into rest on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 1910, at 12:45 p. m., Louis Kraemer, 2510 Slattery street.

LITTLE JOURNEYS IN PATHS OFF THE MAIN NEWS ROAD

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 16.—Four sons of a Middletown farmer gathered at the home of one of the brothers in this city and found that they had made such good use of their original capital of $700 each that now all are multimillionaires.

The brothers are Nathan G. Miller, aged 77, of New York City, former head of the Iron Steamboat Co., one of the pioneers in electrical investments, and once principal owner of the Nickel Plate Railroad; Darius H. Miller, aged 81, a retired dry goods merchant and manufacturer of New Britain; Charles Miller, 73, also a retired dry goods merchant and manufacturer of Waterbury, and Frank Miller, 65, the host, president of the City National Bank, and one of the leading financiers of Fairfield County. The reunion was in observance of the golden wedding anniversary of the eldest brother, Darius.

Sons of Thomas Miller, a frugal farmer, each boy received $700 on reaching manhood. Now their combined wealth is estimated at about $25,000,000. In making their fortunes they worked individually, having practically no interests in common.

Among the other guests at the reunion were Mrs. Darius Miller, who was a farmer's daughter of Windsor, Conn., and Mrs. Kate A. Miller Strickland, a sister of the four brothers.

Doctor Lays Increase in Crime to Insanity.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Murders are increasing and suicides gaining headway in the United States, all due to insanity, according to Dr. J. H. Kellogg, superintendent of a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich. He said today: "There were 10,000 murders in this country last year—twice as many in proportion to the population as in India. As for suicides, there were 17,000 in this country last year, an increase of 50 per cent in seven years.

"Insanity is undoubtedly the one great cause, for insanity itself is increasing at an alarming rate. Insanity is undoubtedly responsible for such attacks as that made on Mayor Gaynor, President McKinley and similar murderous assaults."

Dr. Kellogg was asked what he thought about sending missionaries to India.

"The great question is not to civilize the heathen," he said, "but to get the heathen out of our civilization."

Women Polo Players Ride Their Horses Dashingly.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 16.—A polo match between a team of society women and well-known polo players was a novelty at the Point Judith Country Club, and attracted an audience of noted players and others of the exclusive set at the Pier and at Newport, yesterday. The women players were Miss Eleanor Sears, Miss Emily Randolph, daughter of P. S. Randolph of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Reginald Brooks of Newport, formerly Miss Langhorne.

Among the spectators at the match were Lord Hugh Grosvenor, the Earl of Rooksavage of the Raneleagh team and Messrs. Rich and Baling of the English team. All applauded the women for their dashing riding and clever drives. Miss Sears and Miss Randolph rode their steeds astride.

Woman Gives 2400 Packages of Cigarettes to Bluejackets.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs has bought 2400 packages of cigarettes to distribute among the sailors of the North Atlantic fleet which arrived today and will remain a week. Besides Mrs. Oelrichs has made arrangements for the sailors' entertainment at the open air vaudeville show in Peabody Park on the afternoons and evenings of today, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. The sailors will go in divisions.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

STUEVER SURE TO DEFEAT HANNAUER, FRIENDS DECLARE

In the selection of members of the State Committee in the St. Louis congressional districts Tuesday, party leaders say the Lemp-Hannauer faction and the Stuever-Daley faction of the Democrats will divide honors.

Hannauer has made a determined fight to prevent Stuever from naming the two members from the Tenth District, but the slate made at Stuever's direction, more than a week ago, will go through Tuesday, according to predictions. This will mean the defeat of Hannauer for the State Committee. The slate contains the names of John P. Haney and Joseph Helderle.

In the Twelfth District the fight between the factions is close. A caucus of six of the seven members, Lawler Daley being the only one absent, selected Arthur J. Fitzsimmons and Patrick O'Donnell for the State Committee. Daley, politicians say, has won two of the members for a slate containing his name in place of Fitzsimmons. One more vote at Tuesday's district convention would enable Daley to win in his fight against the Lemps and the Kinneys. Friends of Fitzsimmons say Daley will be unable to get the one vote needed and that the Stuever faction will lose the Twelfth District.

Brennan Will Win.

There is no contest in the Eleventh District. The committee is expected to name Michael J. Mulvihill to succeed James P. Miles. W. J. (Boots) Brennan will be re-elected.

The Republicans have no contests. Otto Stifel and George B. Webster are scheduled to be chosen in the Tenth District. Webster, according to politicians, will be chosen to succeed John S. Leahy, while Stifel will be re-elected.

Theodore Wolfley and Judge William Zachritz are slated to succeed A. L. Shapleigh and E. H. Coffin in the Twelfth District.

William T. Findly, candidate for Congress two years ago, and Oliver Chapman, member of the House of Delegates, are slated for selection in the Eleventh District, although there is some talk of the re-election of William Caulfield.

The Democratic City Committee met Monday night and passed a resolution authorizing the Young Men's Democratic Club to poll the voters of the city.

The following standing committees were named:

Registration—Patrick O'Donnell, chairman; Edward P. Farrell, W. J. Brennan, Joseph Brogan, Frank Warner, J. Owens and Byrnes.

Auditing, Rules and Contest—Lawler Daley, chairman; A. W. Sheridan, W. Kaiser, C. Boogher and John Clooney.

Ward Organization—M. J. Mulvihill, chairman; Michael Kinney, J. Y. Patrick, Thomas Butler, E. H. Eynatten, Henry Menne and V. C. Wolf.

Finance—Arthur J. Fitzsimmons, chairman; W. S. Rex, Charles Bilharts, J. Durning and Thomas J. Leonard.

HITCHCOCK WILL GO ON A TOUR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Postmaster-General Frank H. Hitchcock will depart in a few days for a trip through the western part of the United States to study the political outlook.

Hitchcock's trip will extend to the Pacific Coast. He refused to discuss his proposed trip, except to say that he expects to "find a better condition of affairs for the Republican party than some of the pessimists seem to think exists."

LILY LENA, LONDON SINGER, SCORES BIG SUCCESS ON COLUMBIA'S OPENING BILL

Lily Lena, the English singing comedienne, hurried to St. Louis at short notice to take the place on the New Columbia's opening bill made vacant by the sudden illness of Vesta Victoria, scored a success with yesterday's afternoon and evening audiences that the great Vesta herself might have envied.

She is a very "fetching" music-hall singer indeed, and the group of songs in which she was heard, each marked by those little intimate tricks of getting on good terms with the listening public that seem almost the birthright of the best-known London favorites in this field, keenly tickled their St. Louis hearers. They included "I'd Like to Live Next Door to You," "If You Have Another Daughter Like Mary," "When the Lights Are Low," and other ditties, and their appreciation by the Columbia's audiences was so enthusiastic that Miss Lena was compelled to make a little curtain speech of thanks for her "glorious" reception.

Another notable feature was the appearance in monologue of Ben Johnson, a distinguished member of the New Theater company of New York, who highly entertained the house, although there may be some question as to the good taste of his satirizing a dead-and-gone fellow player, as is done in his imitation of the late Richard Mansfield at rehearsal. A burlesque of "Barbara Frietchie" and an imitation of the late Joe Jefferson as Rip Van Winkle were excellently done.

Other features on the clever bill are: The Robert de Mont Trio, in "Hotel Turnover;" Walter Hale, in "Evolution of the Banjo," illustrated by color views; Charles Conway and company, in "The Ballet Girl;" Mr. and Mrs. Allison, "the Swede Girl and the Fellow Who Sings;" the Picolo Midgets, Illiputian comedy athletes; the Five Phas, hoop manipulators, and excellent motion pictures.

NEGRO, CONVICTED OF MURDER, GETS A PAROLE

Judge and Citizens Tell Hadley Prisoner for 11 Years Is Innocent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16.—For the first time since Missouri has been a State, a prisoner whose sentence has been commuted from hanging to life imprisonment was granted a parole today.

The prisoner is Robert Gushenberry, a Clinton County negro, who 11 years ago was found guilty of murdering the city marshal of Cameron.

Recently while Gov. Hadley was at Cameron, Circuit Judge Calvird and citizens appealed to the executive to parole the negro, holding that he was innocent.

"I CAN STAND IT NO LONGER," HE WROTE, THEN TOOK POISON

Gus Meyer Had Been Suffering Severely From Illness and Sought Relief.

Before swallowing carbolic acid, Gus Meyer fastened a note to a heart-shaped pin cushion in his room at 1510 Walnut street. "I can stand it no longer," he wrote, referring, presumably, to his sufferings from Bright's disease.

Mrs. Lucy Redmond, who has a boarding house at the Walnut street address, found the body Tuesday. She told the police Meyer's best friend was Mrs. Lulu McKenna of Flat River, Mo., and that he carried life insurance in Mrs. McKenna's favor—Mrs. Redmond did not know how much. Mrs. McKenna visited him recently.

Meyer was 55 years old and unmarried.
